Marin Gets Grade Crossing; NWP Battling To Quit Line

VERY RECENT REPAIR — Newly dug earth is plainly evident in this section of Northwestern Pacific Railroad line near Civic Center, where work crews completed repairs only yesterday as railroad insisted at California Public Utilities Commission hearing it intends to run trains over the tracks. At another hearing, in U.S. District Court in San Francisco, the same railroad—through another attorney—insisted today it should be allowed to abandon the line permanently.

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad today won Marin County agreement to maintain a crossing signal on a railroad line, while at the same time arguing in federal court for permission to abandon the line.

Railroad Told Profit Not Issue

A federal judge today told an attorney for Northwestern Pacific Railroad, which seeks to abandon its San Rafael service, to keep his testimony on the track.

Judge A. J. Zirpoli, presiding at the hearing in U.S. District Court in San Francisco, told attorney Randolph Karr that the question in the railroad's appeal from an Interstate Commerce Commission order was a question of public convenience and necessity, and not the amount of profit or loss involved.

THREE JUDGES

Zirpoli, one of three judges hearing the railroad's appeal, repeatedly questioned Karr during the attorney's opening statement. Karr began by discussing the profits NWP was making before a July, 1961 fire closed the Porto Suello tunnel on the railroad's main line in San Rafael.

"What you're saying is, these profits weren't as good as the railroad would have liked them to be," said Zirpoli.

Karr said he was going into the profit and loss question because the opposition in the case was giving erroneous interpretations.

AGAINST APPEAL

Defenders against the appeal include the Interstate Commerce Commission, the City of San Rafael, Marin County, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroads, and several other cities and business firms.

Karr insisted the profit a railroad made or did not make was a factor in approving or

County Must Pay Upkeep

For a cost of about $600 a year, Marin County today won an agreement from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad for a grade crossing to open the Civic Center to automobile traffic to the north.

The crossing is vital to plans to develop the Civic Center and fairgrounds, Planning Director B. D. Dobbs declared in testimony yesterday.

But Peter E. Mitchell, presiding commissioner in a State Public Utilities Commission hearing at the Civic Center, said today that the question of the $600 annual cost may wipe out the effect of the agreement.

LIGHTS, GATE

The $600 would be for annual maintenance of crossing lights and gates, required by the PUC.

Mitchell said the PUC has repeatedly taken a stand that the railroads must pay for maintenance of crossings, although local jurisdictions may pay for installation of signals.

The agreement came today any testimony was given. The hearing, in its second day, was opened and immediately recessed to allow Harolds, Lentz, railroad attorney, and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to go into a huddle to try to work out an arrangement.

NOT HAPPY

At the close of yesterday's hearing, Mitchell said he was not happy with the location of the proposed crossing, at the north side of the Civic Center property near Highway 101, because of the safety factor since trains cannot be seen easily through the tunnel under the highway.

Lentz had suggested it be

Second Sausalito Suspect In Slaying Returns; Arraigned

Grim-Faced Robert Jones Asks Counsel Be Named

A grim-faced, stoic Robert Lee Jones, 25-year-old Sausalito murder suspect returned last night from Hawaii, was arraigned at 10:45 a.m. today in Marin Municipal Court and his defense turned over to the public defender's office.

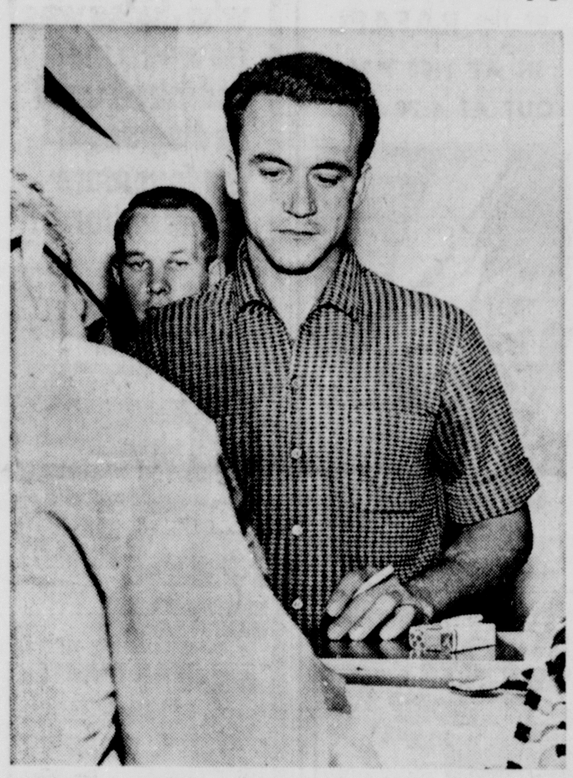

Jones and John Lee King, 28, arraigned yesterday, are charged with murder with malice in the Good Friday ice-pick and buldgeoning death of Donald G. Corbett Jr. in the latter's Sausalito apartment.

In arraignment, Jones requested that Judge Leonard A. Thomas appoint counsel, and was informed that the public defender's office would contact him to determine if any conflict might exist in that office defending both Jones and King.

Jones is to appear for continued arraignment at 1:30 p.m. Monday. King, arraigned at 1:30 p.m. yesterday, made similar arrangements, but informed the court he was attempting to obtain counsel on his own. His arraignment was to resume at 1:30 p.m. today.

Jones was flanked to arraignment from county jail by Undersheriff Eugene Meyer and Ellis Seibert, chief criminal investigator for the Marin County sheriff's office. Only a small battery of television and newspaper photographers and newsmen attend-

Mill Valley Annex Plan Stirs Protests

City Manager Says Area Would Take In School Campus

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The City of Mill Valley propeses to annex approximately 150 acres of marshland, extending to Highway 101, with the Tamalpais High School campus representing more than half the total in order to force inclusion of other properties.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer today filed an annexation application, complete with drawings and maps, with the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission. He disclosed he has been working on the annexation for a month.

HIS PROPOSAL

Balmer said the annexation was being proposed by his office. He said he had "informal approval" of the city council.

Asked if annexation were not a policy matter which should be discussed and decided in regular meetings of the city council, Balmer said, "no."

Although Tamalpais High School District has asked for annexation of the high school property, some others whose property would be included are violently opposed.

NOT A THOUGHT

Harry Johnson, who said he own's Sabella's Restaurant building and land as well as the Marin Home Investment Co. on Shoreline Highway, is the most vociferous. "I wouldn't give it (annexation) a thought," he said today. Johnson claimed 90 per cent

Recco Cuts Community Center Ties

"Recco operations will be suspended on the Mill Valley Community Center Building until such time as the design situation is clarified," recreation council directors agreed last night by 5-2 vote.

Directors Jack Benjamin and Les Mize voted "no," saying they favor the action taken but want to continue "to work with the kids on the center."

The decision followed the city council's refusal Monday to consider Recco's offer of donated architectural design for the center, now being remodeled on Project 17 by volunteer labor.

Sausalito architict Roy Starbird was hired by the council to design the center at a maximum cost of $3,300.

The contention by park and recreation commissioners Dean Meyer and Jerome Hauke, said Recco chairman William Woods today, that "anything volunteered or donated couldn't be good" was strenuously objected to by the directors "considering that Bala and Strangaard, city engineers, donated their services amounting to several hundred dollars for the compacted fill and floating slab on which the building was placed."

Recco will continue guidance to youth groups desirous of working on the project, said Woods.

Resolution Includes Span Arches Study

Spending of $50,000 "for continued research and development of any and all known types of traffic control devices potentially suitable for reversing lanes" on Golden Gate Bridge was voted by the bridge district board today.

The wording of the motion means the study will include continued consideration of the controversial scheme to erect overhead arches, which many groups contend would disfigure the bridge.

Motion for the study was by Chairman Dan E. London of the building and operating committee, which recommended the study yesterday.

It was seconded by Director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, who plunged the meeting into an uproar with a request for special attention to a system of "runway lights" developed by Dr. D. M. Finch of the University of California Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering.

Immediately after London offered his motion, Director Leland S. Murphy of Inverness

Marshall Quits Race For Health Reasons

Tomales rancher James A. Marshall is withdrawing from the race to win back a seat on the Marin County Board of Supervisors in the June 2 elections, he announced today.

Marshall confirmed a report that he is bowing out, saying: "Yes, It's official. I have had respiratory trouble and when I checked with my doctor he advised that I get out of the race."

Marshall said he would visit the county clerk's office today and ask that his name be withdrawn from the ballot. George H. Gnoss said he believed there was still time to withdraw his name, but Marshall would not be able to get his $192 filing fee back.

The withdrawal leaves four candidates in the Fourth District race: incumbent Supervisor George H. Ludy of Inverness who unseated Marshall by a vote of 567 to 419 in 1960; Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer of Inverness; John T. Kielty, Woodacre building contractor and James A. Dougan, Bolinas insurance man.

The four are running from a district enlarged on Jan. 31

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — At least two Brazilian congressmen were under arrest today and dozens of others were on the wanted list as Brazil's revolutionary military leaders bypassed Congress to press a nationwide roundup of leftwingers.

At least 49 congressmen were sought on suspicion of subversion in the military's sweeping purge of leftwing extremists and supporters of ousted President Joao Goulart.

Brazil Red Take-Over Described In Report

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—A vivid account of Communist propaganda infiltration of Brazilian rural areas is contained in a report to intelligence authorities by Valentin Suazo, young education specialist working for the AFL-CIO in Brazil.

Suazo went to a remote village to organize farm workers against Red agents and found the local leader listening to a small transistor radio.

Suazo examined the radio and discovered that a tin plate had been imposed on the dial so it could not be moved. As a result, the only broadcast that could be obtained over this radio came from Havana.

Further inquiry disclosed that the radio had been given the village by a Communist agent, who warned that no one tamper with it or new batteries would not be provided.

Suazo's report is confirmed by a Brazilian memorandum recounting the far-flung plot by ousted President Joao Goulart and his leftist aides to abolish the Brazilian constitution and set up a Castro-type

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Maryland Negro Senator Wounded

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Maryland's only Negro state senator, Mrs. Verda Welcome, was slightly wounded early today by a sniper in front of her home. A suspect sought by police in the ambush shooting also was a Negro.

Mrs. Welcome

Mrs. Welcome, a leader in civil rights activities in Maryland, sustained only superficial wounds. She was grazed in the heel and hip by two bullets, her doctor husband said. He treated her at their home.

She said later she felt it was a miracle she wasn't killed.

Object of a pickup order was an unidentified young Negro who Mrs. Welcome said made two attempts to force his way into their home last week.

Lack Of Babies Reduces Payments

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Leslie Spicer, 48, ex-husband of actress Mona Knox, yesterday won a decrease in child support payments because the population explosion is being "transferred out" of the Pacific Palisades district.

Mona Knox

Dr. Spicer, an obstetrician and gynecologist, testified he lost about $6,000 last year because the Hughes and Douglas aircraft companies are transferring their younger personnel out of the area — including the young expectant mothers who make up a large portion of his practice.

Superior Judge Roger Alton Pfaff ordered Spicer's $360-per-month child support payments for 2-year-old daughter Leslie reduced to $250 a month. Miss Knox, 34, had asked that they be increased to $500 a month because she was out of work.

Actor Sellers Helps Little Boy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—British actor Peter Sellers, still too weak to feed himself, spends much of his time trying to make an 8-year-old heart patient laugh.

The boy, who underwent open heart surgery Tuesday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, is in the intensive care room where Sellers was being treated for a heart attack.

Despite the 38-year-old Sellers kidding around, he still was on the critical list.

He has been hospitalized since suffering a severe attack of coronary thrombosis Monday.

U.S. To Pull Units From Germany

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States announced today that it will pull 7,500 troops from Germany beginning in May.

A Defense Department announcement said the withdrawal will represent the last of the reenforcements were sent to Germany during the 1961 Berlin crisis. It said they were "in excess of the U.S. commitment to NATO."

The units being returned include three artillery battalions, one armored battalion and one armored calvary regiment totaling 5,100 men.

The remaining 2,400 men involved in the withdrawal were airlifted to Germany in January.

Tokyo Population

TOKYO (UPI)—The population of metropolitan Tokyo totalled 10,482,472 persons on March 1, the city's census bureau said yesterday. The figure was an increase of 8,998 persons over the number of people reported a month previously, the bureau said.

Death From Plague

SAIGON, South Vietnam (UPI) — At least 10 persons have died of bubonic plague in Khanh Hoa Province, according to health officials here.

Crash In Vietnam

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) —Communist gunners downed a South Vietnamese air force fighter during a fierce battle yesterday in the Mekong River delta, apparently killing the American pilot and his Vietnamese observer. Intense firing prevented ground parties from reaching the crash site. No signs of life amid the wreckage were seen from the air.

Leukemia Virus

LONDON (UPI) — The British Medical Journal today described the discovery of a virus that may be connected with leukemia. The medical journal said Italian scientist Dr. Gavino Negroni and two British researchers have isolated a virus found in the bone marrow of 10 leukemia victims.

Russ Link Four Yanks To Spying

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has accused four members of the U. S. Embassy of improper activities smacking of espionage but hasn't expelled them from the Soviet Union.

Instead the Soviets barred the quartet from traveling in the Soviet Union outside Moscow for 90 days. There was no indication why they were not expelled, the usual penalty.

The U. S. Embassy said the senior British air attache in Moscow, Air Commodore A. N. Davis, was involved in one of the incidents with the Americans. But the British Embassy refused to confirm or deny this or to say whether he also had been restricted to Moscow.

The U. S. Embassy said the Soviets rigged incidents to make the Americans look like spies.

An embassy spokesman, confirming the travel ban today after news of it leaked out, said U. S. Charge d'Affaires Walter Stoessel had lodged protests with the Soviets and denied the Americans were engaged in any misconduct or spying.

The spokesman said the Soviets rejected Stoessel's request to lift the travel ban, which does not forbid the men leaving the country.

The Americans were two naval attaches, Cmdr. Stuart Savage of Alma, Kan., and Lt. Leonard Bracken of Philadelphia, Pa., and two air attaches, Lt. Col. Edgar Smith and Capt. Edmund Svetina, both of Dayton, Ohio.

The embassy spokesman said the Soviets accused Savage and Bracken of making illegal photographs and Smith and Svetina of penetrating military territory.

The spokesman said the accusations arose from separate incidents in which the Americans were surrounded by angry crowds in Leningrad and Tula, south of Moscow, in February and March.

U. S. diplomats believe Soviet authorities instructed the citizens beforehand to pick out the Americans and create a disturbance. On both occasions the men were in civilian clothes but were using American cars.

The embassy spokesman gave this account of the incidents: Savage and Bracken were riding in Leningrad Feb. 14 when a crowd of "irate citizens" gathered around the auto in St. Isaac's Square.

The crowd kept Savage and Bracken in the car while they beat on the hood and crawled over it. Police shuffled them away after 15 or 20 minutes.

The U. S. spokesman denied the Savage and Bracken took any photographs.

Airline Tests Emergency Plane Escapes

CHICAGO (AP)—United Air Lines staged a mock emergency evacuations of passengers from a DC-8 airliner yesterday. Three persons were injured as they slid down escape routes to the ground.

Airline officials said it took 174 passengers 4 minutes and 50 seconds to scramble out of the supposedly blazing jet aircraft.

"The time involved to clear the plane was far beyond any criteria we have been shooting for," said J. D. Smith, the lines safety director.

The airline staged the test with its employees and their families, in the same proportion of men, women and children found on an average commercial flight.

Two tests were run inside a United hangar; 174 persons and a crew of seven were aboard for the first and 160 passengers and a crew of seven for the second.

The test reportedly grew out of price competition between United and Pan American World Airways on the California-to-Hawaii flight.

United has carried fewer passengers than Pan American on its flights and has stressed the safety factor.

In the first test, simulated smoke and tape recorded sounds of faltering engines wafted through the DC-8.

The theatrics were too much for some children, who screamed and cried. Passengers were instructed to fasten their seat belts and to lean forward and grab their ankles.

Then a stewardess announced that the plane had crashed. Four of the plane's eight exits were intentionally blocked and the pasengers were told to leave the plane as quickly as possible.

Walter Christensen, 49, one of the test passengers, carried a 4-year-old girl with him as he slid down a wing to the ground. He broke an ankle in sliding from the depressed landing flap 18 inches to the ground.

Another woman wrenched her back in the same test.

The second test, with 160 passengers, was carried out in 2 minutes 20 seconds. A woman wrenched her ankle sliding hatch.

MacArthur's Body On View In 'Home Town'

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The old soldier was home today, his last long journey at an end.

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur lay in repose in a flag-draped coffin on a catafalque over the crypt containing his tomb into which he will be lowered tomorrow.

And this old Navy town turned out by the thousands to pay final respects.

He will lie in state as the long lines pass through the pillared MacArthur Memorial until the Episcopal funeral services.

The general always called himself a "spiritual son of Virginia," but actually was born in Little Rock, Ark.

The memorial is a converted courthouse and houses MacArthur's papers.

(Funeral services for MacArthur will be carried on television by all three network stations in the Bay Area tomorrow morning.

(KRON-TV will carry the rites and burial starting at 8:30 a.m.

(KPIX-TV and KGO-TV will begin their coverage at 9:30 a.m.

Fort Bragg, in Mendocino county, was established in 1857.

Johnson Asks Business Lead Fight For Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson says emancipation may be a proclamation but it is not a fact and he wants businessmen to provide leadership in making it a fact.

He said in a speech last night that "we are going to pass the civil rights bill" now embroiled in heavy Senate debate.

But he said, too, that:

"We must realize that the passage of this bill only leaves us on the side of the hill, with the big peak still above us. To reach that peak is going to require the cooperation, the good will, the moral courage, the determination, the good sense and the patriotism of very single American."

The bill, the president said, can only chart in law "the directions that we must take as individuals."

Johnson spoke out on the civil rights issue to businessmen assembled in the White House East Room. They represented businesses which have agreed voluntarily to adopt "plans for progress" which call for wiping out racial discrimination in employment.

Johnson addressed them with ferver in one of the hardest-hitting speeches he has delivered in the civil rights field — a speech which came only two days after Alabama's segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, ran up a surprisingly large vote in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

"I feel what I am saying, and what I am doing, " Johnson said.

He said nothing has happened to swerve his administration from the course toward passage of the civil rights bill.

"The demands of justice and decency make that necessary," he said. "But the challenge we face goes beyond the passage of a single piece of legislation, for any law is insufficient unless it is supported by the moral commitment of the people of the country."

Federal Funds 'Unfrozen' For Negro Training

Mill Valleyan Acts To Get Money For Program At College

Thanks to a Mill Valley education leader, federal funds have been "unfrozen" to start a special office work training program for young Negro women at College of Marin.

This came to light last night at a Marin Junior College District board.

The first of the two 30-week classes, each offering 35 hours of training per week, will start April 20 at the college. The second will begin Nov. 14. Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of the college's adult school, expects 28 in the first class and about the same number in the second.

TRAINING FUNDS

They will succeed a county-financed "crash program" at Tamalpais High School and Hansell's Associates Secretarial School, begun after Federal Manpower Training Act funds were frozen in February.

The man responsible for "unfreezing" more than $100,000 in federal funds to finance the College of Marin program is Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley, member of the State Board of Education, founding member of the San Francisco Urban League, and a leader in programs on behalf of the Negro minority.

Mrs. Marie Ray, employment and training supervisor for the County of Marin, enlisted Collin's aid, Briggs told the College board. "He contacted Washington and got the assistant secretary of labor."

DUE TRANSFERS

Most of the students now enrolled in the county-financed program at Tamalpais High and Hansell's will be transferred to the college to complete their training, Briggs said.

The federal government will pay about $39,000 for the training and the students will be allowed $43 a week allowances during training by the State Department of Employment.

The college class day will consist of two hours typing and office practice, 90 minutes of English and oral communication, one hour of bookkeeping, one hour of business arithmetic and 90 minutes of office machine training, personal development and human relations.

After training the students, previously unemployed or under-employed, are referred to the State Department of Employment for positions.

Sea Gulls Stricken By Strange Disease

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, (AP)—Sea gulls here are being stricken by a strange new disease which hits suddenly and causes almost immediate death. At a South African Air Force base near Cape Town 50 dead gulls were counted on the beach one morning and many more were seen floating in the water.

Fishermen who have spotted the black-backed gulls say they fold up in flight then plunge into the sea.

They flutter for a while and then lie still. A lecturer in zoology at Cape Town University says the gulls may be dying from a disease which killed hundred of terns in the same area two years ago.

National Jamboree For Scouts Slated

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI)—More than 50,000 Boy Scouts from all sections of the country will gather here in July for the sixth national Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

The week-long event will feature field sports, Scoutcraft activities, skill-o-ramas and arena shows. One thousand Scouts from 30 countries will participate in the jamboree as guests of U. S. Scouts.

Wright Granddaughter Is Also An Architect

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A granddaughter of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, renowned architect, has helped to design the community center at Colorado City, a new town 25 miles south of Pueblo.

Both Mrs. Elizabeth Ingraham and her husband, Gordon, of Colorado Springs, studied architecture under Wright.

Mosquito District Pay Hiked

Directors of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District last night approved a 5 per cent pay increase for district employees, effective July 1.

They also granted step increases, effective May 1, to Norman Birse Jr., senior operator, from $555 to $580 per month; David Bailey, special operator, $508 to $531, and Joaquin Gallardo and William Porter, $486 to $508.

The raise will cover nine district employees and no increase will be less than $25 per month, according to G. Paul Jones, district manager.

Directors also adopted a resolution of intention to annex 1,563 acres west and south of Sutro Avenue in Novato. They will hold a hearing on the annexation at the district depot, 201 Third Street, San Rafael, May 14 at 8 p.m.

Directors also renewed an aerial spraying agreement with Medlock Dusters of Davis for one year starting May 1 at a rate of $50 an hour.

pro-Communist regime. The report has been submitted to leaders of the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees.

Prepared by partisans of Gen. Humberto Branco, army chief of staff who led the revolt and is strongly favored as the next president, the document charges that Goulart was bent on suppressing press freedom and "plantings seeds of class hate."

"On March 13," the memo declares, "Goulart, jointly with his three military ministers held a mass meeting in Rio attended by about 100,000 people. Workers were paid and brought in by trains from a number of the principal cities of Brazil. Leftist labor leaders were flown in from all over the country. The scene was set for a Peron-type popular front meeting.

"Before Goulart spoke, his brother-in-law, Brizola, and other leftist elements whipped the crowd into a frenzy with the announcement of the expropriation of seven private oil refineries and by a series of radical demands, such as the forming of a new congress made up of army sergeants and labor leaders. Shortly before the meeting, Goulart signed a decree on widespread land expropriation and also a Cuban-type rent control law."

Causing further alarm, the memorandum says, was Goulart's move to suppress freedom of the press, radio and television.

"The Goulart action that caused the most concern was his announcement that the government planned to create a monopoly of the distribution of newsprint. Radio and television were put under federal control, and Goulart ordered that he be given prime radio time, at any time, throughout the nation."

The revoult againt Goulart came in the nick of time, asserts the Brazilian memorandum, as leftist plans had crystallized for a take-over of power.

"A mass meeting was scheduled for April 10 in Belo Horizonte by Goulart," says the report. "This rally was to be followed by massive demonstrations in Sao Paulo and other key centers on May 1.

Second Murder Suspect Returned For Arraignment

ed his arrival, as opposed to large coverage yesterday for King.

Before Judge Thomas, Jones appeared almost sullen, his jaw muscles working, but he otherwise displayed no emotion. He spoke sparingly, with no evidence of the politeness displayed earlier by King.

Jones, manacled and wearing the same blue and black sports shirt, soft-woven, dark loafer shoes, and dark slacks he wore on his return late yesterday from Honolulu by Donald E. Midyett, criminal investigator for the district attorney's office, and Herbert Smith, Sausalito police officer, was asked if the name of the murder complaint copy given him, Robert Lee Jones, was his true name.

"Yes, it is," he replied. Jones has allegedly used a host of aliases in the past several weeks, and denied Jones was his name when he and King were first apprehended in Hawaii.

He was asked if he had counsel.

"No," he replied, "I wish the court to appoint an attorney."

Bruce B. Bales, assistant district attorney, asked the court to order Jones held without bail, and the court complied, as it had with King.

Jones was then hustled back to his isolation cell in county jail where King is being kept in separate detention. Jones's return from Honolulu was described as also uneventful. At request of Bales, he was examined at 9:05 a.m. yesterday by Dr. Richard C. Murphy, psychiatrist for the Department of Corrections, Medical Facility at Vacaville and who also practices privately in Marin County.

Dr. Murphy spent about 90 minutes with Jones and told Bales today he will submit a written report at a later date. he was not as concerned about giving similar examination to King, but likely will before trial date.

King late yesterday was visited by his estranged wife, Mrs. Anna Hilda King, 32, of 35 Temescal Terrace, San Francisco. She and King spoke in the sheriff's own office, with an officer and matron present. Upon departing, the woman left King two packs of cigarettes and $1 cash, for which she signed a receipt with the name, Mrs. John King.

King also was visited yesterday by Peter Allen Smith, public defender.

In arraignment yesterday afternoon, King's outward appearance of calm was occasionally belied by nervous gestures. He failed to join in the customary pledge of allegiance, but replied to Judge Thomas's questions in low but well-controlled voice.

Asked if he wished to obtain his own counsel, King, his black, wavy hair combed into a slight ducktail, replied, "I hope to, yes, your honor."

As he left the courtroom, he was asked by newsmen if he would give written permission for press interviews. His answer again was polite: "I really don't know yet."

Smith last night, however, said under no conditions will he, if he defends King, permit such interviews. Sheriff Louis Mountanos said policy for interviews of the two suspects by other law enforcement officers will be for either Seiber or Meyer or both to be present in the same room at all times.

Bales said he will require neither suspects' presence when he presents his murder case to the special grand jury session at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Principal Is Sought At Tomales

Tomales Bay Union School District trustees last night asked the Marin County superintendent of schools to find a new principal for its two schools for next year.

The trustees asked for help in replacing Principal Floyd Billigmeier, who has resigned effective at the end of this school year.

Salary offered will be 1.2 times that which he would get on the teachers' scale. The principal also teaches the eighth grade, said Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the board. The district's salary scale for teachers is $5,000 to $7,800, according to Mrs. Parks.

The board also authorized hiring a part-time secretary for the principal.

Date of the regular meeting of the board was changed from the second Thursday to the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Tomales School.

The board adjourned to April 28 to consider written policies of the district which have been compiled by Billigmeier.

The trustees set April 22 from 1 to 3 p.m. for the program for Public Schools Week. This year the theme will be "Reading Through the Grades." Open house will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on April 23 at both Tomales and Marshall schools.

said he understood much of the money would be used to test devices other than arches. London said directors would be informed of experiments before they were made.

Leonoudakis then began reading a report of a conference he had with Dr. Finch.

Bridge Board President Ben K. Lerer of San Francisco said he had a letter from Finch in 1960 against use of the imbedded lights in center lanes.

As London and several other directors objected that Leonoudakis was out of order, Lerer rapped his gavel.

After the motion for the $50,000 study was passed, Leonoudakis asked that a proposal to spend $1,000 for tests of Finch system be referred to the building and operating committee.

London said the request should be taken up in committee session. Leonoudakis continued talking until the board passed a motion by Director Herbert J. Fehely of Del Norte County, seconded by William Moskovitz of San Francisco, to table his motion.

Director Murphy, who seconded the Leonoudakis motion, said he did so because "I tried to talk at yesterday's meeting under Mr. London and couldn't get in a word edgewise. I call this gag rule."

When Lerer invited Murphy to have his say today, Murphy replied, "I've said it."

night enabling military chiefs to suspend political rights for 10 years and to revoke mandates of federal, state and municipal legislators without court action.

The powers were contained in an "institutional act" ordered by the military revolutionary command without congressional approval. News of the wave of arrests brought an abrupt halt to a night session of the Chamber of Deputies.

Acting Chamber President Afonso Celso demanded an explanation from military authorities.

Congress was steeped in gloom as knots of lawmakers held quiet conversations in the corridors of the congressional building or in their offices.

Deputy Rolando Coribisier, a young Rio architect and member of Goulart's labor party, was arrested at dinner with his wife and friends at the Hotel Nacional.

Corbisier was released, but two other labor party deputies, Benedito Cerquera and Cocayuva Gunha, remained in custody.

The "institutional act" also is designed to give the new interim president more power over a reluctant Congress in dealing with Brazil's monumental government problems, including inflation and a chaotic economy. It gives Congress 30 days in which to act on bills proposed by the president.

by the board of supervisors from 1.7 per cent of the county's population to 3.9 per cent. The supervisors enlarged it by giving it San Geronimo Valley and Nicasio from the Fifth District and Bolinas from the Third.

"I wish to thank all my old supporters," said Marshall. "And I wish also to thank all my new friends in the larger area for the support they have given me.: I am sorry to withdraw but I feel I must take my physician's advice."

Plaintiffs Win In Suit For Damages

A Marin Superior Court jury last night ruled for the plaintiffs in a combination suit asking over a half million dollars damages in a 1961 trench cave-in near Tocaloma which killed two men and trapped a third.

The jury, however, returned no money decision, and will reconvene at 10 a.m. both Wednesday and Thursday to determine amounts of damages.

Plaintiffs Mrs. Clara Bradshaw, Novato widow of Dee H. Bradshaw killed in the accident, and Jamie Brewer, 24, of Santa Venetia, sued Marin Municipal Water District, Holtzinger Brothers, Pacific Mechanical Corp., and Allen Sumpter, operator of a ditch-digging machine.

Mrs. Bradshaw has asked $500,000 for a wrongful death of her 42-year-old carpenter husband, and Brewer asked $50,000 personal damages.

The case involves a dirt cave-in at a Marin Municipal Water District site on Sept. 18, 1961, in which Bradshaw and Thomas Buschfield, 25, San Rafael, died and Brewer was trapped.

Trial lasted 11 days and the jury was out five hours.

Woman Patient Is Rescued From Bay By Husband

A 33-year-old Petaluma woman was rescued from the bay at 1:38 p.m. yesterday after she reportedly ran into the water from a launching ramp at Loch Lomond Marina.

Mrs. Floretta Smith of 579 Corona Road was rescued by her husband, Robert William Smith, and Andy Alberto DeGrassi, 20, of Orinda, who was working on a nearby boat.

San Rafael police reported Mrs. Smith, a patient at San Rafael General Hospital, was on an outing from the hospital with her husband when she dashed into the water.

Smith went after his wife and DeGrazzi, hearing his calls for help, jumped into the bay to assist. Mrs. Smith was returned to the hospital uninjured.

CROSSING

moved 300 feet east, but Dobbs said the change would force revision of the plans for the Civic Center complex and Asst. Planning Director Arthur T. Knutsen said the move would add about $300,000 to right of way cost.

Today. Lentz said he felt that the crossing as proposed by the county would be safe enough if automatic gates were installed.

Both sides reserved the right to ask reopening of the hearing if the commission does not agree to the arrangement.

In yesterday's testimony, Knutsen said the railroad has not been using the tracks in the area at all since the Puerto Suello tunnel fire closed access to San Rafael in July of 1961.

He said part of the tracks were washed out last winter, and only yesterday railroad crews were seen making repairs.

Knutsen also presented charts showing the road would cut down congestion at intersections on North San Pedro Road near the Civic Center. Dobbs added that, at full development of the Civic Center, the road to the north would be an absolute necessity, because otherwise traffic congestion at North San Pedro Road would be so bad that many Civic Center facilities could not be used because people would refuse to drive to them.

Theft From Auto

Gary Lee Miller of 21 Graceland Drive, San Rafael reported to San Rafael police yesterday that someone stole a distributor cap from his mother's car while it was parked at San Rafael High School during school hours Tuesday. Police said the left vent window of the car was broken.

Man, 22, Arrested

James W. Johnson, 22, of Oakland was arrested at 3 p.m. yesterday on a charge of indecent exposure on the corner of Windward Road and San Rafael Avenue, Belvedere, Police Chief William S. Woodington reported today.

Twenty distinct sounds that chimpanzees make in different situations have been identified. They influence one another's behavior by vocal calls.

ANNEX

of the property owners within the annexation area are opposed.

"We don't trust the current city council because they act without principle and integrity," he declared.

Other property owners who are objecting are George Zaro, who has investments in the Alcan Marin Ltd. marina apartment project near Enchanted Knolls Point, Dick Harris of Goodman Lumber Co., and Charles Mowers.

"They would have to take me along with them in a pine box," said Harris. "I don't want any part of Mill Valley at all. They are not to be trusted."

Zaro said he opposed the annexation at this time. Mowers, who gave the city the Colonel's Ranch Wagon for a community center for $1, said he has never been asked by the city regarding annexation.

A strong proponent of the proposed annexation is Councilman George D. Monardo who, with candidate for council Albert E. White, opened the meeting at Park School.

"We want this badly," said Monardo today, who added it will broaden the city's tax base and could possibly lower the tax rate by 11 cents.

Balmer described the area as rectangular in shape, part land and part underwater land, running from the high school along Almonte Boulevard to Shoreline Highway.

It is proposed to take in the Shoreline Nursery and Shopping Center, state corporation yard near Richardson Bay Bridge, follow Highway 101 northward to and including the Alto Motel. All land is on the west side of the highway.

Property owners brought into the city under annexation would not have to pay on the existing bonded indebtedness of the city, Balmer said. They would also be exempted from paying the proposed $325,000 library bond indebtedness should the issue pass June 2, he disclosed.

The current indebtedness is 20 cents on the tax rate.

Annexation of Tamalpais High School was proposed last August by the high school district but the city turned it down.

New legislation passed last September recognizes private and public property together, Balmer said. Prior law in annexation involving public and private lands held public value separate from private value.

The high school, with valuation shown as $1,200,000 on the county's assessor's books, according to Monardo, is more than 51 per cent of the total valuation of the annexation. And thus the high school is enough to bring in all other properties.

Police Chief Dan Terzich told the city council last fall he opposed annexation of the school since it would mean added police problems. The high school is in unincorporated area now and the sheriff's office is the law enforcement agency which handles any problems.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, asked who is on the mayor's marshland committee, of which candidate White announced he was chairman on Wednesday, said, "there is no committee."

He said he conceived the idea of a committee two or three months ago and asked White, John G. Donhoff and Albert Bianchi to serve on it with White as chairman.

"But the whole thing died on the vine," said the mayor.

HEARING

disapproving abandonment of a line.

"We'd be establishing a new precedent if we followed you," Judge Zirpoli replied.

Judge W. T. Sweigert asked Karr how the railroad was able to reduce its rates on sand and gravel in southern Marin from $1.10 to $1 and finally to 80 cents a ton before the fire if it were not making money.

Karr confessed, "Some fellows in the company often did not know what the left hand was doing."

Judges Zirpoli, Sweigert and James R. Browning were hearing the case, expected to last through the day. In his opening remarks, Judge Zirpoli allotted an hour to the railroad, a half hour to the ICC, 15 minutes to Boris H. Lakusta, representing San Rafael and Marin County, and 15 minutes to Santa Fe.

The railroad filed a petition to abandon the line shortly after the fire, which was started by two boys in the tunnel on July 20, 1961. After a long series of hearings, an ICC examiner recommended against the abandonment. An ICC panel, and later the entire ICC, ruled the railroad must restore service. Then the railroad carried its appeal to the court.

.25-Caliber Pistol Stolen From Auto

Jack Delroy Stuart of 12 Charlote Street, Apt. 1, San Rafael, reported to police that a .25-caliber, semi-automatic pistol was taken from the glove compartment of his car between midnight and 1:15 a.m. today.

The car was unlocked and parked in the carport at the apartment, Stuart said.

College Students Will Canvass Larkspur Homes

College of Marin students, armed with identifying letters, will canvass Larkspur homes tomorrow and Sunday for a special census for the State Department of Finance.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said that it is to the advantage of residents to give the students information as each new resident found means an additional $9 in state funds for the city.

The students will canvass the city between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. besides asking census questions they will ask the number of cars a family has, the number of parking spaces available for the cars and where the head of the household works and if he drives to work.

These questions will aid the city in solving planning problems, Piper said.

Nearly 90 per cent of modern roofs are made with asphalt.

Inmates May Get Early Paroles

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some prison inmates will get early paroles and others will receive intensified treatment under a new plan announced by state correctional agencies.

The Adult Authority, Department of Corrections and the Youth and Adult Corrections Agency announced yesterday they will release 500 offenders three months early this year. But inmates convicted of felonies will stay in prison longer and receive stepped up correctional treatment.

Authorities said the plan involves no added cost to taxpayers and will give the public increased protection.

ALL-CAR AVERAGE: 21.77 Miles per Gallon.

New results prove mileage potential of Mobil gasoline in cars like yours!

First transcontinental Economy Run in history...3,243 grueling miles from Los Angeles to the World's Fair in New York City!

The Mobil Economy Run uses cars like yours! Not "factory specials." This year dozens of different American cars were picked at random by United States Auto Club officials from dealer showrooms and factory assembly lines throughout the country. USAC sealed every vital part, then kept the cars under guard throughout the Run.

On roads like you drive

Not on a "test track," but on steep mountain roads, on long open spaces, in desert heat, driving rains, through the traffic of city after city—this is the rugged route of the Mobil Economy Run—world's greatest road test of gasoline performance.

All results are certified by the United States Auto Club. No special equipment is permitted...normal highway speeds are maintained... and every car must carry an official USAC observer at all times.

But the outstanding results of this year's Economy Run demonstrate more than just the mileage potential for your car. Here's why:

Mileage is the measure of power!

The miles per gallon a gasoline gives, shows the power available for other uses—power for quick starts, fast pick-up and for climbing hills.

Mobil gasoline proves it has the power available for the all-round performance you want...proves it in public year after year.

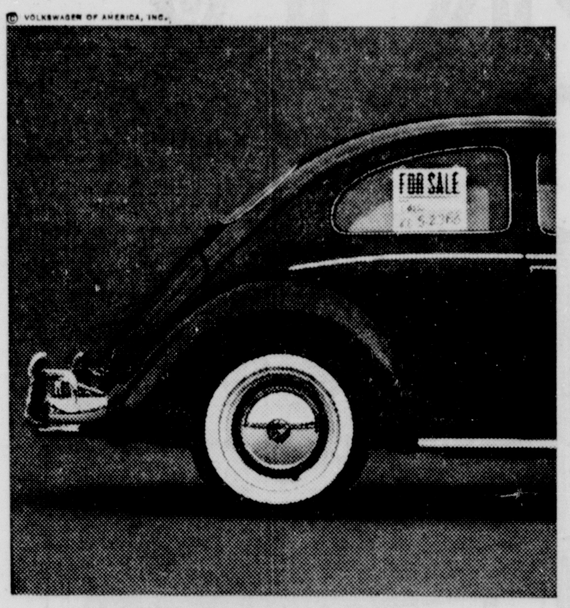

Make the most of your car's mileage potential. Get started soon with Mobil—the Economy Run Gasoline. At your friendly Mobil dealer.

One of the nice things about owning it is selling it.

A new Volkswagen doesn't depreciate wildly the minute you turn the key.

In a sense, the older it gets the more valuable it gets.

So that in 5 years, the same VW will be worth more than some 5-year-old cars that cost twice as much to begin with.

Old VWs are worth a lot because a lot of people want them.

One reason is that it takes a real car nut to tell a clean used one from a new one.

VWs always look like VWs.

Another reason is that they hold up.

A VW is put together so well, it's practically airtight. (It helps to open a window to close a door. Even on old ones.)

And, new VW or old, there's all that nice money you keep saving on gas, oil, tires, insurance, and repairs.

So you can get a nice price for it. (If, for some strange reason, you'd want to sell.)

It's the kind of economy that people are willing to pay an arm and a leg for.

Sausalito Has Most Council Candidates

Six Men, Three Women Seeking Three Vacancies

Sausalito, scene of a wild campaign in Marin two years ago, will field the largest number of candidates in Tuesday's elections: Six men and three women seeking three city council vacancies.

This year's campaign has produced less noise, though Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), whose candidacy produced the most controversy and who ran third in the race of eight persons for two seats in 1962, is running again Tuesday.

The other women candidates are Eleanor O'Hara Chapin and Shirley J. Kindred.

Others making new tries for the council are Serge Trubach, who ran unsuccessfully in 1960 and 1962, and John J. Gallas, who lost in 1962.

The nine candidates are seeking the posts of Councilmen Howard Sievers and Michael Harris, who are not running again, and Carl W. Gabrielson, who is campaigning for reelection.

Besides the council race Sausalitans will vote on two special measures: Shelter Cove lots purchases and whether or not to make the city clerk job appointive.

Voters also will choose a city clerk, in case the measure to make the job appointive should lose, and a city treasurer. Miriam Brecka is sole candidate for city clerk and Edwin S. Long, incumbent, is sole candidate for city treasurer.

It will be the third time on the ballot for the question of the city clerk's job, now elective. The issue failed in 1960 and 1962. Since retirement of City Clerk Amelie Smith in 1961 most of the duties of the position have been held by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown. He has continued to receive his official salary as manager with no increase.

Charleine Strittmatter, Brown's secretary, was named city clerk Jan. 15, 1963. She is not a candidate for the position and her term, completing that to which Mrs. Smith was elected, expires this month.

Shelter Cove lots, 11 in number, were bought by the city in 1960 to help preserve the beauty of the waterfront. They cost $63,000, of which the city paid $41,000 and the Sausalito Foundation contributed $22,000. Warren V. Glass Jr. sued to obtain a referendum on the underwater lot purchase and the superior court and district court of appeals ordered the question be put on the ballot.

Here are summaries on the council candidates:

ELEANOR O'HARA CHAPIN

CARL W. GABRIELSON

ELEANOR O'HARA CHAPIN, 45, is a member of the Sausalito Library board, a board member and past president of Sausalito Theater, a member of the Sausalito Citizens' Council and former member of the Sausalito Recreation Commission.

She attended McGill University, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She was active in the Red and White Review and French and Spanish clubs.

She favors purchase of the Shelter Cove lots, opposes widening of Bridgeway between Princess and Richardson streets, favors a new police station on Johnson Street and remodeling of the present city hall, and a new library.

She resides with her husband, William P. G. Chapin, chief copy editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and two children at 16 Cazneau Avenue.

CARL W. GABRIELSON, 60, was appointed April 16, 1963, to fill out the term of Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., resigned. He is an executive of Robert Dollar Co. and president of Exchange Garage, Inc., in San Francisco.

He is a director of the Sausalito Rotary Club, Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum and San Francisco Garage and Parking Assn.

He served 22 years in the Far East with Dollar and during World War II was interned by the Japanese at Los Banos in the Philippines. He was rescued by troops under General of the Army Douglas MacArthur 15 minutes before he was scheduled to be executed.

Gabrielson is vice president of the American committee for Kiyosato educational experiment project of Japan, chairman of the KEEP committee in San Francisco and chairman of "Miss San Francisco Sister City," a committee for the San Francisco-Osaka Japan people to people program.

He favors the lots purchase and a new police staation and library. He urges that uses permitted under the new zoning ordinance be made more restrictive; supports the present city council-manager form of government and urges continuation of the present policy of hiring professional technical assistance.

He was born in a log cabin in Idaho five miles from the nearest community, later moved to Puyallup, Wash., with his family and worked his way through University of Washington, where he was on the freshman crew and graduated in business administration.

Gabrielson and his wife, Mae, live at 6 Bulkley Avenue.

JOHN J. GALLAS

SHIRLEY J. KINDRED

JOHN J. GALLAS, 36, who ran unsuccessfully in 1962, is supervising librarian for Novato Unified School District. He has lived in Sausalito 10 years and is an Army World War II veteran. He attended University of San Francisco and University of California and has a special secondary teaching credential.

He has served as a trustee of Sausalito - Marin City Sanitary District and trustee for the Sausaltio Library and as chairman of the Marin County Library Advisory Committee.

Among prrojects in the city he favors a new library first and a new police station second.

He and his wife Josephine live at 203 Third Street.

SHIRLEY J. KINDRED, 39, is a medical secretary in San Francisco.

She favors the lots purchase and rezoning "of our remaining open areas to waterfront and yacht harbor type activities."

"City Council-manager form of government has me in a quandary," she has said, adding she would like to give it further study.

She believes the master plan and zoning code should be completely reevaluated. She and her husband, Roy C. Kindred, live at 38 Glen Drive.

JAMES B. LEECH, 39, is an attorney who favors the lots purchase and council-manager form of government.

He says he is running for one term only and does not wish to be mayor. He is counsel for the Sausalito Employees Assn. In World War II he served aboard the destroyer Rowan, which was sunk in 1943 near Salerno. He was one of 50 survivors of a crew of 256.

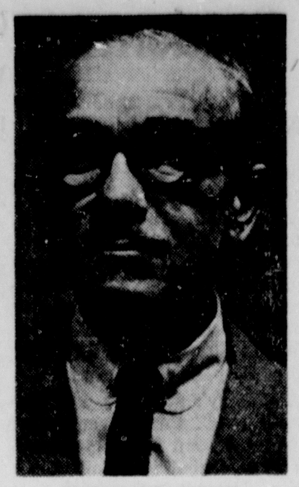

He says he favors professional planning but believes it has been carried to extremes. He and his wife, Fredrica Louise, and two sons live at 95 Central Avenue.

JAMES B. LEECH

MARSHA OWEN

SERGE TRUBACH

MELVIN S. WAX

MARSHA OWEN, 60, nearly was elected in 1962 after a vigorous campaign by some of the wealthy "hill people" against her.

Mrs. Owen has been married four times, the last time to Robert L Gump. She is an active businesswoman as owner of the Valhalla Inn at 201 Bridgeway for 16 years and a frequent visitor to city council meetings.

She favors the cove lots purchase and declares, "We need a city clerk." She believes in a city administrator and advocates a full-time building inspector, full-time engineer and full-time city attorney, pointing out, "It cost $3,193 to try to fire the chief of police."

MARTIN SILVERMAN, 32, is a sales manager who has lived in Sausalito since 1959. He and his wife Deidre live at 111 Marion Avenue.

He declares he is anxious for Sausalito to "retain its aura of unique charm, keeping in mind above all, a responsibility to the residents of the community."

He says he running for office because he wants to live in Sausalito the rest of his life and wishes to participate in the shaping of its future. He questions the city's mounting budget, which he says has increased more than those of other cities in the county.

SERGE TRUBACH, 51, an artist, sculptor and art teacher, is running for his third time.

He lives in a studio at 631 Bridgeway and presumably is running as he has in the past as the unofficial spokesman for the city's artistic community.

He favors the lots purchase and has said, "Why not have a real civic center and real city hall and use real artists?"

He favors a full-time mayor, who might be paid. He favors a police station, new library and a waterfront park. "We have a new police chief and I hope we don't destroy him," he observed.

MELVIN S. WAX, 45 is the San Francisco Chronicle's city hall reporter and chairman of the Sausalito Planning Commission. He has been a member of the commission three years and chairman for two. He is former president of the Richardson Bay Parent-Teacher Assn. and a member of the Sausalito Little Theater board.

He graduated from Dartmouth College and did graduate work at Harvard University. He lives with his wife Charlotte, a teacher at Dominican School, San Rafael, and daughter Martha, freshman at Tamalpais High School, at 25 Glen Drive.

He was a commander of a sub-chaser in World War II and achieved the rank of lieutenant senior grade in the Navy.

Wax supports the lots purchase and favors the city manager form of government as efficient and economical. He believes the city should hire the best professional help it can get and said the city needs a new library and new police station as well as art gallery, teen center and auditorium.

Brown Gets Redistrict Bill, Legislature Takes Holiday

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislature today enjoyed another three-day weekend after giving final approval to a bill that cracks down on counties with wide discrepancies in the size of their supervisorial districts.

The lawmakers went home yesterday afternoon without coming to any agreement on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's stymied $3.67 billion-dollar budget.

Administration officials are considering a list of $63.5 million dollars in cuts demanded by Assembly Republicans, and say they expect some decision next week.

The Republicans declare the cuts must be made before they'll vote for the huge spending bill, and Assembly Democrats need at least four GOP votes to pass the bill with the required two-thirds majority of 54.

A 3.66-billion-dollar version of the budget has already won approval from the Senate Finance Committee, but Chairman George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez) says the supper house won't act further until the measure gainst two-thirds Assembly approval.

The supervisorial district bill, authored by Assemblyman Alfred E. Alquist (D-San Jose) was sent to Brown's desk by a 31-0 vote of the Senate.

It provides for mandatory re-districting after each federal census, and is aimed at preventing a minority of voters from electing a majority of supervisors.

Its main provision says the population of any three districts must add up to at least 50 per cent of the county's population.

Striking at counties that have delayed in obeying a State Supreme Court order, the bill requires those not meeting the standard to redraw their districts by July this year.

If the supervisors fail to agree on new boundaries, a special commission consisting of the assessor, the district attorney and the county clerk or county school chief must do the job.

From then on, all districts would be reapportioned after every 10-year federal census.

If the bill becomes law, it would affect a number of counties already involved in litigation.

In counties that have been reapportioned since the 1960 census, the bill requires that the supervisors adopt a resolution saying the new lines meet the standards of the bill.

In other legislative action, the Senate voted Thursday to raise the pay of the state's judges and attorney general, and give the judges automatic pay raises every four years. The bill now goes to the Assembly.

And Gov. Brown's bill to banish most billboards from an 800-foot path on each side of federal and state highways won approval from the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. It, too, goes to the floor. The Senate killed a similar Assembly-passed measure last year.

Yorty Asks Court To Qualify Anti-Brown Democratic Slate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty is turning to Superior Court in his efforts to qualify a Democratic presidential slate for California's June 2 primary ballot.

And Republican Harold E. Stassen reportedly is considering a similar move, possibly to a higher court.

The developments came after the status of each man was left in doubt on the basis of signatures gathered during the period that ended April 3.

Stassen, a former governor of Minnesota, needed 13,708 valid signatures to become the third official candidate for the GOP presidential nomination from California.

Yorty needed 15,186 to field a slate in opposition to Gov. Edmund G. Brown's.

The secretary of state's office in Sacramento reported yesterday that it has received less than 5,000 Stassen signatures and fewer than 2,000 certified for Yorty.

An unofficial tabulation by news media indicated, however, that Yorty apparently lacked only 171 signatures, and that Stassen possibly lacked 2,000. This conjecture was based on a check of registrars in the counties where petition gatherers were active.

The secretary of state has until April 18 to make the official count public.

In an effort to gain time, attorney Phill Silver filed a Superior Court petition in Los Angeles yesterday on behalf of the Yorty people. It challenges the April 3 cutoff for submission of signatures on constitutional grounds.

Silver contends that since prospective voters were allowed to register for another week after the petition deadline, the secretary of state should be directed to accept signatures certified as of yesterday "and for a reasonable time thereafter."

To do otherwise, he argues, would be a "denial of rights."

Bernard Averbach, Stassen's public relations man in San Francisco, confirmed that court action was under consideration in Stassen's case, too.

There were reports that Stassen might go directly to the State Supreme Court in an effort to force his GOP delegation on the ballot.

Lagunitas Tax Vote Explained

Thirty-five citizens attended last night's school tax information meeting at Lagunitas School to learn about the 65-cent increase requested in the operating tax by district trustees.

"It was a friendly crowd, no opposition, no baiting," Robert E. Lea, chairman of the school tax citizens committee said.

The operating tax limit, now at $2 per $100 assessed valuation, would go to a limit of $2.65 if voters approve the measure Tuesday. Total tax rate levied by the district this year was $2.46.

GOP CONCLAVE IN DALY CITY COW PALACE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Republican Party's convention this summer really isn't going to be held in San Francisco — and a resolution was introduced in the State Senate yesterday to make sure everybody knows it.

The Cow Palace, where the convention will be in July, was annexed recently by Daly City in San Mateo County, which lies directly south of the City and County of San Francisco.

State Sen. Richard J. Dolwig (R-San Mateo) introduced a resolution asking the Senate to commend Daly City "For being the site of the Republican National Convention."

Driver Bound Over On Drunk Charge

Robert A. Wilson, 20, of 54 De Luca Place, San Rafael, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday for trial on a felony charge of drunken driving which involved an injury.

He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 Jan. 10.

Rafferty Tells Board No 'Gag' Is Intended

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The State Board of Education, averting a near collision with Dr. Max Rafferty, today was faced with warnings of racial unrest in schools this fall and the question of how to treat Negroes in history text books.

The 10-member board yesterday opened a two-day meeting here. But before the routine agenda was discussed the board agreed on a "no censorship" policy with Rafferty regarding information about department activities.

The superintendent of public instruction conceded that a memorandum, the object of a flareup in Sacramento earlier this week charging censorship, contained "faulty language." He assured the board he had no intention of imposing a "gag rule" on employees of the department of education.

Before the meeting ended yesterday the educators, questioning the necessity of physical education, asked its staff to call a physical education expert why fitness programs in schools were necessary.

"We have student illiteracy in the field of economics, for example, and now we are thinking about statewide tests for pushups," said board member Ben Scott. He referred to state legislation for tests in physical education which would be given on the secondary level. The board of education was asked to adopt regulations to govern the testing.

The board failed to reach a decision yesterday regarding the treatment of Negroes in history textbooks. The state curriculum commission reviewed books previously, and reported in some cases there appeared to be an obvious absence of minority group material.

Command Center?
What am I—
some new kind of General?

No. But the "Command Center" is a brand new convenience idea in your Forest Park kitchen. Interested?

You should be. You practically designed this home yourself.

The "command center kitchen" was specified by the Women's Congress on Housing, Washington, D.C., who studied the "most wanted features" outlined by women like yourself.

It's a creative kitchen—one that gives you full-circle visual control of your home. A new concept in home architecture. Wonderfully effective and convenient.

But it's only one feature of many! Check how many others you've wanted:

FABULOUS FLOOR PLAN. Besides the kitchen, there's a "mud room" entrance for children. An exhibit space in the entrance gallery. A snack bar. A family room that's accessible to kitchen, dining or patio. A living room that converts to a 38-foot entertainment area. A master bedroom suite with M'Lady's powder room. And closets, closets, closets!

LUXURY APPOINTMENTS THROUGHOUT. You'll be delighted with walnut finished cabinets—ceramic tile baths—Tappan double ovens and rotisserie—dishwasher and garbage disposal—luminous kitchen ceiling—nylon carpets in living, dining, four bedrooms—wood paneling in living and dining rooms. All completely color-coordinated inside and out for harmony and beauty.

CLOSE TO SCHOOLS, SHOPPING, CHURCHES. All living needs are within minutes of your home.

ATTRACTIVELY PRICED. 8 rooms: 2 baths, living room, dining area, family room, 4 bedrooms, 2-car garage (with ample room for shop and extra storage) and large lot (average 105' x 75'). Your cost: $27,700., with 5¾% loans, 30 years, to qualified buyers. Low down payment.

ASK ABOUT OUR "TRADE-UP" PLAN. Use your old house as a down payment. We'll sell it in 60 days or buy it at a pre-agreed net price. No waiting. No uncertainty. Select your new Forest Park home tomorrow with the knowledge that needed funds will be available.

If You Like Italian Food You Can Find It Scattered Across Marin

Italian cooking is a savory thing, and of all types I imagine it has been the most readily accepted by the American public for its robust and forthright seasoning—at least in the Bay Area. The restaurant that serves nothing but Italian food is more rare today. Second and third generation Italians—and even those who were born in the old country have adjusted their menus to what each one judges the overall public taste to be.

Marin has any number of Italian places and they're pretty much scattered around the county. Some of them have Italian names and generally can be quickly identified. Some are quasi-Italian by virtue of the nationality of the cook alone. His talents are usually reflected in the bill of fare.

Corte Madera has its Marin Joe's and Fairfax boasts of Deer Park Villa which has held forth for years, and the more recently opened Enrico's (only six or seven years old). But don't go to Rubini's expecting an Italian menu. Hector Rubini left his name there and moved out years ago. It's now continental.

Rubini and his partner Guido Farina — two Toscani — certainly have the Italian food at San Rafael Joe's, and the Vincis at Gourmet Joe's have been known to turn a few old country tricks of their own. Franchini's Chateau and Dave's West End Villa have Italian overtones even beyond their tortellini, spaghetti and ravioli.

If the name means anything you could include Sabella's in Mill Valley and Tarantino's out at Bolinas. Although both specialize in seafoods, either one could probably work up something in veal and parmesan if pressed.

Up the highway, most of the publicity coming out of Galli's seems to center around perpetuating the name "Ignacio" — but don't be fooled. Those big steaks may never have had their prototypes in Italy — but look at the rest of the menu sometime.

And we offer a special "salute" to the pizzeries. To many, the pizza pie epitomizes all that's good in Italian cooking.

THE NEW La Casa Italian Restaurant at 903 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael should be ready for an opening in just about another week. Father and son Amadeo and Ronald Lipori are doing a nice job of outfitting the place, and it's resplendent with stainless steel and new upholstery.

Both will do the cooking — but Ronald is the pizza specialist, so he'll attend to that part. A wine and beer license is coming.

THERE'S BEEN a slight change in the menu at the Roamin' Chariot in Novato. The demand has been so heavy for spaghetti, pizzas and ravioli — that's the way the food is being slanted. The Kellys are seriously thinking of changing the name to "Kelly's Italian Restaurant."

This home delivery service of the Kellys has quite an arrangement to keep the food hot. Bill Kelly designed his own stainless steel "warmer" and had two of them made—one to keep inside the delivery truck and one at the restaurant—the latter kept going constantly. Even after being turned off they'll keep a temperature of 250-275 degrees for an hour. This gives plenty of time for deliveries in the Ignacio, Hamilton Air Force Base, Novato and San Marin areas—and no need to reheat at your home. If enough advance notice is given they'll extend delivery service even farther.

ITALIAN RESTAURATEUR Pietro Pinoni of Greenbrae, coowner with Joe Alioto in Pietro 311 Restaurant in San Francisco, had to give up his location at 311 Washington Street which he had occupied for almost 10 years, to make way for the Golden Gateway. While trying to decide where to relocate he and his wife Stephanie took three months off to visit in Italy.

Now they're back and holding forth at 535 Washington Street — but still keeping the same old name "Pietro's 311." Biggest problem, he says, is trying to make the new place look as old as the other one—which was built around the turn of the century.

FRIENDS of Cliff Cox will find him these days at Wiltshire Towers, San Rafael—during the day. Make it about lunchtime and you'll have a chance to talk to him and eat.

BASIC SETTING of a new TV film will be the deck at Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon. It will be a private eye series to be produced this fall by James Griffith, the TV character actor and an old buddy of Jim Bigelow at Sam's. Griffith spent most of last weekend there mapping out his plans.

NEW BARTENDER at Alioto's Arbordale, Sausalito is Bobby Woldhagen who used to be at Valhalla.

ABOUT THIS TIME of year you're likely to get the hiking urge — and it's not a bad idea to talk yourself away from behind a steering wheel—at least for part of the distance you cover.

Mount Tamalpais is a good place to start. Leave your car in the parking area across from Mountain Home Inn — and hit the trail up the mountain or down to Muir Woods. By the time you get back, it should be time to eat and the chances are you'll have a whale of an appetite which can be satisfied right inside the inn — along with several quaffs of draft beer.

Music Chest Summer Concert Series Set

Pianist John Browning, who recently appeared as a soloist with the San Francisco Symphony, will open the Marin Music Chest's summer concert series June 21 in Forest Meadows at Dominican College in San Rafael.

Concert and opera soprano Mary Costa, who made her debut in Marin County in Forest Meadows two years ago, will appear again August 9, according to Mrs. Samuel Achibald, Music Chest president.

Artists for the July and September concerts will be announced later, she said.

The annual subscription drive for the summer concert series opened this week and will continue through May 6. Music Chest headquarters are located at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, San Rafael, and are open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Belvedere Council Candidates Differ Little In Views

10 Per Cent Of Population Shows Up To Hear Speakers

By MAY POLHEMUS

Belvedere candidates' night was somber and attended by more than 150 residents.

A few seconds of silence were observed at the opening of the evening in memory of Mrs. James L. Heynemann, former civic leader who helped organize it.

The candidates presented their qualifications and viewpoints on the future of the city. Although their qualifications differed, their viewpoints on Belvedere did not vary appreciably.

The meeting was organized by Mrs. Heynemann and Mrs. Chester C. Vargas Jr., who always sought to preserve the residential character of Belvedere. All candidates concurred in this goal as did the audience. Mrs. Heynemann was subsequently killed in an auto accident.

WALTER P. SIMI, insurance broker and 13-year resident of Belvedere, mentioned changes which have taken place, development of the lagoon and new churches for all denominations. He said he had been on the legislative committee of the insurance brokers exchange for 15 years and had lobbied in Sacramento and also had been on the board of trustees of Lick-Wilmerding School in San Francisco.

He particularly emphasized the need for a better water system on the west side of the island. Simi said, "If any one of these homes should be destroyed by fire for lack of water, the value of that home would exceed the cost of improvements I propose."

WILLIAM H. RAFTER, real estate broker and 13-year resident, said he had been actively involved in both the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce and the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council. Having been an "ineffectual ambassador to the board of supervisors," Rafter said, he liked the idea of being an elected official instead.

Belvedere's problems are mostly "housekeeping," said Rafter and "preserving the special, unique quality of our community." Tiburon incorporation has a chance of being realized, thought Rafter, and he felt his experience with Tiburon affairs would qualify him as "a go-between for an equitable and fair boundary."

He suggested that Belvedere develop its own library and involve itself more fully in Bay Area planning. "We're not using Behr, Bagley and McCarthy the way we should," said Rafter.

G. ROGER FELTON, lithographer, three-year resident who regularly attends council meetings, said he thought councilmen get "little thanks and lots of criticism." He discussed the selection of a new city manager to replace Britton Rey, who is retiring, and said his preference was for a man with city business experience.

Local control will improve the whole peninsula, said Felton, in regard to Tiburon incorporation. He said the Belvedere Park and Recreation Commission should encourage more activities.

He suggested a weekend spring cleanup program as a teen-age project which would help reduce fire hazards.

"We have such beautiful surroundings, I think we deserve a fair and just local government," said Felton.

MERRITT K. RUDDOCK, member of the planning commission and private investor, said the council should listen to the views of all people and to the planning commission and city attorney. Ruddock said, "The city council has not always been advised legally as well as it might have been."

Ruddock cited his experience as government administrator, private executive, public relations man, and Belvedere planning commissioner.

He said, "It is important to listen to the past as well as the present and the voters." He said he was interested in "preserving the magnificent character of Belvedere as a credit to us all and an honor to the state."

JAMES G. GARRETT, former owner of Garrett Press and a man of few words, said he had no set plans of any kind. Garrett said that he had worked on a newspaper where teamwork was necessary, had much experience handling men, and had operated his own business for many years.

He suggested that the city council meetings be held on Friday nights instead of Mondays for greater attendance.

THOMAS S. PRICE, contractor, said the unique character of Belvedere could be retained and protected through strong council action. In stating his qualifications, Price emphasized his attendance at council and planning commission meetings, his presidencies of both the board of governors of the Christian Science Church and the Tiburon Peninsula Club, and said, "My contracting background should stand me in good stead."

He stated his support of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments and the landscaping on San Rafael Avenue together with five other points: (1) a public address system for the Belvedere Community Hall; (2) closing Cove Road; (3) painting a white line on San Rafael Avenue by the Christian Science Church; (4) an expanded teen program, and (5) "regaining the property we almost had before Tiburon incorporation proceedings."

"Those who have worked with me," said Price, "know I'll do a thorough, intelligent job."

EDWIN J. DRECHSEL said, "I either have enough friends to be elected or enough enemies to be defeated."

Drechsel, who is on the staff of United States News and World Report, has lived in Belvedere longer than any of the other candidates.

"We can't go back to the days when there were 800 people in Belvedere," said Drechsel, "we have to go ahead." He suggested that Belvedere might control access to hill roads as regard tourist traffic. Of Tiburon incorporation, he said, "I do hope they'll incorporate. It will make it easier for all of us."

"I'm sort of a maverick," he continued, "I like to make up my mind as I go along."

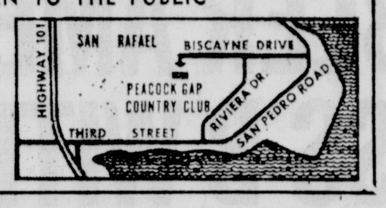

At the close of the formal presentations, Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., and moderator, estimated that 10 per cent of the city's population was in the hall. "It would be a much

Road Budget Cut —Saving In Taxes

After a session of soul-searching yesterday and today by department head and county administrator, the county road budget proposed for next year was sliced enough to cut three cents from the tax rate.

Only one road project was cut specifically: the turnaround parking area at the end of Wharf Road, Bolinas, expected to cost $35,000. But a request of $300,000 for purchase of right of way was knocked down to $200,000, and the budget for maintenance of secondary roads was reduced by changing estimates of cost per mile.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost had asked that the average cost be raised from $775 a mile this year to $850 next. County Administrator Alan Bruce said he would hold the figure at $775. Frost said he would go to the board of supervisors with his request for the hike anyway.

Bruce and Frost agreed to eliminate two road crew positions authorized last year but never filled.

Included in the road budget were funds for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a short distance beyond the Wolfe Grade crossing, and $125,000 for replacement of the Franklin School Road Bridge, a project deferred from this year.

Changes in the public works budget also included addition of two senior building maintenance men, a building inspector, two engineers for flood control design, and two engineers for road design.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell estimated the total road budget for next fiscal year at $2,008,000 according to Bruce's recommendation, or $2,145,000 according to Frost's request. Of this, $1,702,000 would come from state funds or carryover from this year, leaving $306,600 to be made up by the taxpayers, compared to $365,000 this year.

better nation if this many people were always interested," he declared.

Questions from the audience involved St. Stephen's Parish School, long-time bone of contention; however, all candidates sidestepped the issue, which is already in litigation.

All agreed on partial annexation, should Tiburon incorporation fail.

Mrs. Robert Bastian of 19 Peninsula Road asked when the city manager job would become vacant and received no reply from City Manager Rey, present in the audience, or anyone else. Selection of a new city manager will be up to the council, said Rey, which will meet one week after election day.

Sanford Anixter, 10 Windward Road, asked about the police department turnover and said Belvedere police were the second lowest paid in the county. All candidates agreed police should be paid more.

George McCoy said, "Whoever is elected, if half this many people are at all the council meetings the new council will be happy."

Museum Assn. Will Probably Be Organized

The Marin Museum Assn., aimed at promoting the full scope of cultural activities in the county, will probably be organized as a non-profit corporation by May 1.

Residents interested in the project gathered last night at the home of Mrs. E. B. Hayden of San Rafael, organizing chairman, and approved first draft of the by-laws.

Organizing secretary W. W. Kirsch of San Rafael said the corporation will sponsor a series of art exhibits next month and hold a membership drive.

One of the aims included in the by-laws is to work for adequate facilities in the county for a Marin Museum and Cultural Center at the Civic Center under direction of county supervisors.

The by-laws also propose raising funds for permanent art collections, promote cultural education for members and the public and urge the organization of a Marin County Art Commission.

The commission would be under direction of county supervisors. It would bring together all cultural activities in the county, centering them around the proposed museum and cultural center.

Dr. Palmer's Work

Robert F. Palmer, a candidate for the Mill Valley City Council in Tuesday's election, is director of education for the professional personnel training for the 6253rd U.S. Army Hospital (reserve), Presidio of San Francisco. It was reported incorrectly in yesterday's Independent-Journal that he is director of medical education for professional personnel at Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio.

Memory Of Capt. Oko Honored By Assembly

Mrs. Adolph S. Oko of Point Reyes Station yesterday received a scroll carrying a resolution adopted by the California Assembly in honor of her late husband.

The resolution was introduced by Assemblymen William T. Bagley of the Seventh (Marin-Sonoma) and Edward M. Gaffney of the 24th (San Francisco) districts.

It expressed great regret of the legislature at learning of the death last September of Capt. Adolph S. Oko, and recited among other things that:

"Capt. Adolph Sigmund Oko delivered 7,737 Jews from anguish in Europe following World War II by bravely carrying refugees and arms to Israel on his ship Kafalos, termed affectionately by him as his 'ancient rust bucket,' and . . .

"This courageous spirit was but one side of the whole man whose scientific efforts included knowledge of archeology, chemistry, climate and all known facts of the sea, and . . .

"Among his many activities he was . . . a leader in research and study of Sir Francis Drake's 1679 landing within Drake's Estero, and . . . with idealistic belief in man's need and true ability to improve his own destiny, Captain Oko inspirationally led men in all his fields of endeavors . . . (and) was held in most notable esteem by all those throughout the whole world who were privileged to know and work with him."

Conflict between Greeks and Turks on Cyprus reflects hostility that has simmered since the Turks subdued the predominantly Greek islanders in 1571.

Family Suffers From Food Poisoning

A Mill Valley family of four suffered mild cases of food poisoning last month after eating at a "beatnik-type" restaurant in Sausalito, the Marin County Health Department reported this week.

The department declined to disclose the name of the restaurant or the names of the victims of the toxin which was produced in the food they ate.

Dr. Mary Jo Tonelli, assistant county health officer, said the owner of the establishment was warned by the county sanitation department to take care of a sore on his hand which had become infected.

The infection spread, however, and the owner was told by Dr. Tonelli that he could not return to his business until the sores had healed.

His private physician treated the sores and when they were healed, reported to Dr. Tonelli that the owner should be allowed to return.

Dr. Tonelli warned restaurant owners to be especially careful in not allowing workers to prepare food when suffering from sores which produce staphylococcal organisms causing toxin in food.

"Most people suffering from this type of poisoning recover but not after several hours of nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea," she said.

Khrushchev 'Hardy'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who will be 70 April 17, was described in an official biography today as "strong, cheerful, and full of energy." The Novosti Press Agency, in a rare account of a Soviet leader's private life, quoted Khrushchev as having said: "I've still got some fight left in me."

Ross Council Introduces Animal Control Ordinance

The Ross Town Council last night introduced the county-wide uniform animal control ordinance, which would raise the annual dog license fee in Ross from $3 to $4.

The ordinance, which has been adopted by other cities throughout Marin, does not require leashes, but does require control of dogs and prohibits running at large.

The council did not receive a report from the Marin Municipal Water District on how the proposed development of a state park on MMWD land would affect Ross.

Mayor Harry C. Scott Jr. said he hoped the council would get a report next month.

The council is concerned about the proposed development, particularly the amount of traffic it would generate along Lagunitas Road, he said.

The council received a letter from California Cable Communication, a firm providing television cable service, which outlined the firm's services.

There is no television franchise now in effect in Ross, Scott said.

California Cable Communication did not request a franchise last night, but Mrs. John G. Lewis, town clerk, said its presentation was a preliminary move toward seeking a franchise.

The council budgeted $21,009 in state gasoline tax funds for widening of Sir Francis Drake boulevard. The project is sevboundarry. The project is several years away, Scott said.

The council adjourned until April 21 when it will canvass the returns of the April 14 election.

Smith had been wanted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation since leaving Army training Jan. 11, at Fort Ord, according to Novato police.

He was working in the yard at a house on Washington and Harding streets when he was recognized by Sgt. Glenn Wright who was off duty. Wright turned the arrest over to Officer P. J. Haley.

Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Smith, was turned over to the Air Police at Hamilton Air Force Base, by Novato police.

ONE OF FOUR—California Highway Patrolman William Gregg examines car in which Mrs. Dorothy Joyce Manick of Terra Linda was injured at 7 a.m. today in four-car highway pileup in San Rafael. An ambulance was only about 15 car-lengths away and promptly took Mrs. Manick to Marin General Hospital, where she is employed. (Independent-Journal photo)

Ambulance On Spot As Cars Pile Up

An ambulance was only about 15 car-lengths away when four cars piled up on Highway 101 near the Lincoln Avenue overcrossing in San Rafael at 7 p.m. today, sending one driver to a hospital.

Michael Manick, driver for California Ambulance Service of Novato, was enroute to San Rafael General Hospital with a patient when the southbound vehicles crashed ahead of him.

He stopped long enough to pick up Mrs. Dorothy Joyce Fenske, 40, of 125 Nova Albion Way, Terra Linda, and took her to Marin General Hospital, where she is a nurse's aide, leaving the other patient at the San Rafael hospital en route. Mrs. Fenske was treated for bruises on head and right knee.

The pile-up came, reported the California Highway Patrol, when a car switched from the slow to the fast southbound lane of the highway.

Vera Nell Harkey, 48, of Ukiah, slowed to avoid hitting the car which had changed lanes in front of her. Her car was struck from the rear by one driven by Thomas Andrew Bestler, 58, of Santa Rosa, and those driven by Mrs. Benske and Michael Paul Politano, 29, of 219 Paloma Avenue, San Rafael, piled into them.

Only Mrs. Fenske was injured.

LBJ Calls Rail Dispute Test For Bargaining

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson warned today that the railroad work rules dispute is a crucial test of whether collective bargaining can solve major labor disputes in America.

Johnson, who won a 15-day delay in a nationwide rail strike less than two hours before the strike deadline last night, opened new negotiations between the railroads and the five operating unions with personal talks.

First, he invited them to meet at the White House.

Then, after a conference in his office with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and four other federal mediators, Johnson made a direct appeal to the negotiators in the Rose Garden.

He told them that he wanted "an honorable solution—not a solution imposed by decree."

After the Rose Garden session, Johnson made another brief talk before the negotiators got to work laying down ground rules for the talks expected to proceed the next two weeks.

Press secretary George Reedy said that in this meeting Johnson emphasized again that the dispute was a test of free collective bargaining and that the negotiators had "a responsibility to continue to try to make the collective bargaining system work unless they know a better system they want to try."

Reedy said there were no plans for Johnson to propose solutions to the problem.

In his rose garden talk, Johnson expressed confidence that the outcome of the emergency bargaining sessions would be in the interest of all Americans.

Kentfield Struck By Auto

Ruth F. Marcus, 67, of 101 Crown Road, Kentfield, suffered a bruised back and bruised feet when she was struck by a car at San Anselmo Avenue and Pine Street, San Anselmo, at 3:05 p.m. yesterday.

San Anselmo police reported that Mrs. Marcus was in the pedestrian crosswalk when she was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Marjorie P. Block, 42, of 99 Quisisana Drive, Kentfield.

Mrs. Marcus was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital today.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said a delivery truck parked three-and-a-half feet into the crosswalk obscured vision.

Quad Girls Born

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Quadruplet girls were born last night to Mrs. John McKellar, 36, but one died shortly after birth. Mrs. McKellar and the other three babies were reported "doing fine" today.

New Execution Stay Granted Quentin Felon

WASHINGTON (AP) —Thomas E. Purvis, 53, convicted of killing a woman friend in Oakland in 1957 while on parole for slaying his wife at Columbia, Tenn. in 1950 has been granted a new execution stay.

The latest in a series of such stays was granted yesterday by U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas to permit Purvis to take his case to the court. Purvis claims the long delay in setting his penalty has subjected him to cruel and unusual punishment. He seeks a change to life imprisonment.

The California State Supreme Court set aside last August Purvis' death penalty conviction, the third time in four years the court had done so. It ruled that there was prejudicial misconduct by Purvis' prosecutor.

On March 11, Purvis was granted a 30-day stay to prevent opening of the fourth death penalty trial and enable him to take his case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Justice Douglas acted yesterday near the end of his 30-day stay.

(Purvis had meanwhile been transferred from Death Row at San Quentin to the Alameda County Jail, where he was awaiting trial on the death penalty.)

Purvis was convicted of shooting and killing Mrs. Hazel Wilson, 40, in Oakland on Dec. 19, 1957. At that time, the usually mild-mannered Purvis was on parole after serving four years for killing his wife, Eleanor, in 1950, at Columbia, Tenn.

Boy Cited To Court After Auto Stolen

A 1962 model car reported stolen Sunday night from Susan Rose Jacobsen of 1401 Donna Street, Novato, was recovered yesterday by Novato police in front of 1521 Buchanan Street, Novato.

Police said the car had been taken by a 17-year-old boy, who drove it around and then abandoned it. He was cited into juvenile court and the car returned to its owner.

COLLEGE EXPECTS BIG GRADUATION

Board Approves List Of 150 Graduates If Courses Completed Satisfactorily

College of Marin expects to have its biggest graduating class in recent years in June.

The Marin Junior College District board last night approved a list of 150 candidates for graduation, contingent on satisfactory completion of their courses. Graduating classes in recent years have ranged from 90 to 106, reported college president Stephen E. Epler.

The board learned that new state legislation makes it obligatory to charge tuition fees to students from states other than California, and fixed $153 per semester as the fee for students taking a full-time course and $66.30 for those taking six and one-half units. Students taking only six units, however, will be exempt from the fee.

Also exempt will be active members of the armed forces and foreign students.

A year's residence in the state is required to qualify as a resident student, Epler said.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Awarded Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael contract for excavation and fill at the new physical education complex site, at $1.14½ a cubic yard, lowest of five bids received. Norman Gilroy of Mill Valley is to donate 20,000 to 35,000 cubic yards of fill from a building site in San Anselmo.

2. Heard from business manager Norman Bird that architects Falk and Booth estimate conversion of the college's property at Bolinas for a marine biology laboratory will cost $62,653—more than $8,000 above the $54,000 previous estimate.

3. Authorized Epler to continue employing Paul Landry as drama consultant on the proposed music-drama building.

4. Authorized $450 for duplication and safekeeping of plans of existing college buildings.

5. Voted to seek National Defense Education Act funds of $7,717 as 50 per cent contribution toward cost of a second language laboratory.

6. Passed a resolution declaring intent to make further claims for loss in the fire that destroyed the old gymnasium last Dec. 16.

7. Recommended that chairman George H. Ball of the liberal arts division apply to employ county residents to read papers in English 1A and 1B classes, after he reported engaging such readers would be an alternative to reducing class sizes.

8. Authorized Harding Associates of San Rafael to continue soil tests on the site of the proposed music-drama building, up to a total expense of $5,000.

9. Hired three instructors for evening classes: Norma Shrier, substitute in English 1A; Mrs. Muriel Lynch, substitute in shorthand, and Guy Peto, to teach a business course.

10. Hired four instructors for next school year: Lois D. Powell, girls' physical education, at $7,450; Robert L. Justice, boys' physical education, at $6,450; Jerome B. York, business, at $6,100, and Nancy Kenealy, art, at $5,700.

11. Accepted resignation of Neil Williams, tabulating supervisor, and hired John Kohler at $450 per month to replace him, effective May 15.

12. Granted a six-month leave, starting May 1, to groundsman Italo Castellani.

He has held the post about nine year. Bruce B. Bales, assistant district attorney who replaces Garety April 15, has not yet announced replacement of Bemiss.

Doors of the Marin County tax collector's office will stay open until 9 p.m. today to allow for last-minute payment of the second installment of the county property tax.

Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez said payments which reach the office at the Civic Center during the evening or which are mailed and postmarked before midnight will be considered on time.

He added that 23 million dollars of second installment payments have been collected and another 5.5 million dollars is expected to come in this evening and in tomorrow's mail.

College Librarian Takes A Demotion

Charles Mastin, for six years head librarian at College of Marin, demoted at his own request last night to assistant librarian, effective June 30, to have more time to study and to take care of his family obligations.

The Marin Junior College District board then hired Ward S. Blanchard, head librarian at Oakland City College, to assume Mastin's position at a total salary of $9,100 a year, effective July 1.

To start Blanchard at $7,850 a year, the board elevated the position to the category of division chairman. He also will receive $600 for a month of summer work plus $650 for other duties.

Questioned after the meeting whether he would suffer a pay cut, Mastin said, "no," adding that he had reached the highest pay range in his field and with extra duties had been making about $11,000 a year, though he might need to take on summer work or cateloguing to maintain his old rate.

He said he planned to seek a master's degree "in some other subject than library work."

If all cattle, hogs and sheep in California were loaded into one train, it would reach from Los Angeles to Chicago.

Nicasio School Tax Hearings Set

Public hearings on the proposed 80-cent increase in Nicasio School District's present operating tax limit of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation will be held at 8 p.m. April 22 and May 14 at Nicasio School.

The hearing dates were set last night by the Nicasio School District board, according to Roy Bunt, president.

The board's first request for an increase in the maximum tax rate will be presented to voters in the district June 2.

The increase is necessary because of the taxes lost when Nicasio Reservoir was created and to cope with the rising cost of maintenance of the two-room school and teachers' salaries, Bunt said.

Gallinas Unit Favors Small Harbor Area

The board of the Gallinas Village Community Services District last night took a stand in favor of the formation of a Gallinas Creek small harbors district to include the creek and at least part of the lagoon near the Civic Center.

The district will write the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission supporting the proposal.

The directors also heard a presentation from landscape architect Asa Hanamoto on plans for development of three parcels of district-owned land in Gallinas Village. No decision was made, however.

At request of the Bay Area Regional Water Pollution Control Board, the directors agreed to resume regular testing of the water in Gallinas Creek. Tests had been stopped when negotiations began on annexing the area to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

Cougar, mountain lion, puma, catamount, panther and painter are all names for the same animal.

Campus Planning Unit To Be Named

A big committee to help plan the North Marin campus of College of Marin should be named as soon as possible, the Marin Junior College District board decided last night.

On suggestion of college president Stephen E. Epler, the board voted that board president Robert E. Rogers shoulud appoint the members from among trustees, faculty, students, administration, architects, alumni, and citizens at large.

The planning will be a "tremendous undertaking," said trustee Robert E. Oliver. Rogers agreed, saying it is none too soon to start deciding the facilities to be built on 333.42 acres of the Pacheco Ranch, two miles south of Novato and west of Highway 101 at the end of San Jose Boulevard.

Motion to name the committee was by trustee Joseph D. Gargiulo of Novato.

Questions to be decided by the committee, as suggested by Epler, would include whether the campus should offer a complete junior college program, whether it should be operated entirely separately from the Kentfield campus and what priorty should be followed in erection of buildings.

Earlier the board voted to acknowledge a certificate of acceptance of grant of interest of the first 72.88-acre parcel of the ranch and authorized a warrant of $200,000 to pay for it. The board on March 12 voted to buy the land in six parcels for a total of $860,000 over a six-year period.

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Patrolman Gerald Halverson is thankful that the pastor of the Open Door Baptist Church doesn't aim at prowlers.

Halverson parked his patrol car and walked down an alley to answer a complaint of a barking dog at the parsonage of the church. Suddenly a shot rang out. Halverson scurried back to the street and contacted the Rev. Audrey Corder at the front door of the parsonage.

With smoking shotgun in hand, the minister told the policeman he just scared off a prowler by firing the weapon into the air.

Bi-Partisan Blunder Needs Bi-Partisan Correction

Governor Brown (a Democrat) and former Governor Knight (a Republican) will serve as honorary co-chairmen of "Californians for Beaches and Parks," a "bipartisan" committee to support a proposed 150 million dollar beaches and parks bond issue which presumably will be on the ballot next November.

This was all announced recently in a press release distributed from Governor Brown's office.

The press release reported a joint statement from the Governor and the former Governor, saying, "California's unsurpassed natural beauty and opportunities for leisure are among our most valuable assets in attracting growth industry to our state.

"Despite our considerable investments in park property in the past 10 years, people still are being turned away from our parks because there is not enough room for them.

"The bond issue will help state government meet this situation by providing funds for purchase of beach and park property which otherwise might be swallowed up and lost forever in the unprecedented expansion of cities and towns."

All this is proper. It is all true.

We must have the money to put into public ownership those park and beach recreation areas which otherwise will be lost to public use in the not-too-distant future.

The I-J supported this kind of bond issue when it was on the ballot before.

We will continue to support it.

But we cannot help noting the irony of having Brown and Knight as honorary co-chairmen of a citizens committee working to avert a conservation crisis.

It was action during the Knight and the Brown administrations that caused the crisis.

For decades, prior to the Knight administration, all the royalties from tidelands oil production along the California coast were designated by law for use ONLY to acquire, develop and operate state parks and beaches.

This was sound and logical.

As one resource (oil) was being depleted, the public's share of royalties was being used to conserve another resource (beaches and parks).

But the fiscal pressure on the Knight administration was too great to hold the line on this great conservation principle.

Part of the oil royalty funds were diverted to the general fund. At the very time when California was about to face its greatest need for saving beaches and parks, the principal source of funds for the purpose was diverted, in part.

During the first years of the Brown administration, the job was finished.

Most oil royalties from depletion of our natural resources go now into the general fund.

So we have a "crisis."

Since the crisis was induced by "bipartisan" action, it is ironically and painfully appropriate that we have a "bipartisan" committee to meet the crisis —headed by the leaders of the two administrations during which seeds of the crisis were planted and nurtured.

General MacArthur Believed Many Enemies Conspired Against Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur was not a simple man. He was romantic, but tough; eloquent, but sentimental; charming, but austere; daring, but suspicious.

He felt some people, besides Communists, were his enemies, conspiring against him. Because he so often wished his views to prevail, he was sometimes hard to get along with.

ONE WRITER, Richard Rovere, said MacArthur was a "true believer in himself" and found it "necessary to ascribe his disappointments . . . to base intrigues."

Although Gen. John J. Pershing, MacArthur's top commander in World War I, decorated him, the New York Times says Pershing told him: "Young man, I do not like your attitude."

The Washington Post's military editor, John G. Norris, reports that when Maj. Dwight D. Eisenhower served under MacArthur in the Philippines in 1935 they had differences of opinion and Eisenhower returned home.

PRESIDENT Harry S. Truman dismissed MacArthur from his Korean command in 1951 for what he considered insubordination by publicly airing his views on how to win the war, contrary to Truman's orders and policies. The final straw was when MacArthur wrote to a congressman.

When the second volume of Truman's memoirs appeared in 1956, explaining why he fired MacArthur, the general said the former president "did violence to the truth" and was "vengeful."

But MacArthur saw intrigue in his dismissal. He said it happened after he had demanded prosecution of a spy ring which was getting top secret military plans sent to Washington from his Korean command.

He said he thought Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of defense, and Gen. Omar Bradley, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were "personally hostile to me" and that the enmity went back some time.

YET, TRUMAN'S record of his conversations with MacArthur at Wake Island six months before his dismissal quotes the general as saying: "No commander in the history of war ever had more complete and adequate support from all agencies in Washington than I have."

But it was Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's aide and confidant for more than 20 years, who did the biggest job of rounding up the various intrigues supposedly working against the general.

Whitney, who was with MacArthur when he died last Sunday, put together a 547-page justification of what MacArthur did or didn't do in a book called: "MacArthur: His Rendezvous With History."

He said "Communists and their dupes" found "an ally in the 'Europe-first clique' in the War and State Departments at the outbreak of World War II" in an attempt to discredit the general "in every way and thwart his efforts against the enemy."

Ross Valley Supervisor Race Gets Hotter; Still No Debate In Sight

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

THE FUSSELMAN-Kettenhofen-France race in supervisorial district two (Ross Valley) is getting livelier by the day.

When Ernest N. Kettenhofen, 46, began campaigning in November, his was a lonely fight. Incumbent William D. Fusselman, 75, was his only opponent, and Fusselman wouldn't rise to the bait.

Kettenhofen must have felt like a challenger who enters a ring all by himself, with no one to hit.

But since then, stock broker Jess J. France Jr., 43, has entered the contest to make it a three-way race.

A couple of weeks ago, Kettenhofen challenged the other two to a debate of the issues in open forum. Fusselman shrugged that off by saying in effect: You two can fight an elimination bout; I'll take on the winner.

This spurred all three into action.

THE KETTENHOFEN camp replied through campaign chairman Harold Watkin:

"The incumbent's rejection of our proposal to meet in open forum to discuss pertinent issues . . . is a great disappointment.

"The incumbent's reluctance to participate actively in the community is also extended, unfortunately, to the meetings of the Board of Supervisors, where he has been absent all or part of 10 of the first 14 meetings of the year."

FRANCE ISSUED this statement:

"The taxpayer is entitled to know where candidates stand. I'd be most pleased to meet with any recognized groups, with or without the other two candidates.

"If it's a debate just for publicity purposes, I would not want it. But I would be happy to talk to groups on a discussion-type basis.

"Incidentally, I would hope that Bill (Fusselman) would break his long-standing policy of not appearing before the public to answer questions on various issues."

FUSSELMAN struck back with these observations:

"Those who try to tie the label of 'negativism' and claim my ideas are 'antiquated' only exhibit the fact they have no direct knowledge of my position on matters which come before the board. A look at the record gives the true picture. . . .

"Many people know I have spent most of my adult life serving in a public capacity. This has resulted in my learning the very intricate business from the ground up. It could be said, I stayed here and tended the store for you.

"Providence has given me a great compassion for the unfortunate who are in personal difficulties or are being oppressed by some strange facets of government. Just today I was so grateful that fate permitted me to assist a family that was the victim of the word disorders. . . .

"I have a definite respect for due process of law. The rights of individuals must be protected. I also most certainly subscribe to the proposition that government should not be an intolerable tax burden on the people who pay the bill. . . ."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Brown Talking About Redwoods In Parks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I'm afraid you missed the point in your editorial of April 4, in which you scoffed at "Governor Brown's pious pledge that 'not a single redwood (tree) will be destroyed to build a freeway.' "

Surely you have been aware of the mounting battle being waged by conservationists against the Division of Highways' plans to bulldoze a freeway through state redwoods parks: The Independent-Journal itself has run several stories on this fight. Surely you must have realized, from the circumstances and the context of the governor's statement, that what he meant was that "not a single redwood in state parks will be destroyed to build a freeway." At least, this is the way everyone I know of — the rest of the Bay Area press, conservation organizations (and, I daresay, the Division of Highways and the loggers)—have construed the governor's words. And we have applauded him for them.

Misrepresentations by certain interests in Humboldt and Del Norte counties to the contrary notwithstanding, such groups as the Sierra Club are not opposing the construction of a freeway through the redwoods region to Crescent City and the Oregon border. They are determined, however, that the freeway shall completely bypass the existing state parks. But the Division of Highways has yet to be convinced that this must be done and that higher considerations justify the moderate extra cost of such bypasses. This is the big issue, and this is what Governor Brown was talking about.

The freeway threat is greatest at Prairie Creek and Jedediah Smith Redwoods state parks. At Prairie Creek, the Division of Highways' preferred freeway route would not only mutilate the unique, wild Gold Bluffs Beach, but would slice through magnificent redwood memorial groves. In Jedediah Smith, the route adopted by the highway people will gouge through the 5,000-acre National Tribute Grove, which was purchased with the help of donations from all over the United States as a memorial to the men of our armed forces killed in World War II.

The trees which would be felled for the freeways would not be the "scrawny second-rate redwoods that make up much of the vast north coastal areas of redwood forest," but rather hundreds of the "rare giant trees whose age is counted in millenniums." Add to this such secondary damage—already evident in sections of Humboldt Redwoods State Park now traversed by the freeway—as the opening up of the forest canopy, with resulting vulnerability of the trees to windthrow; the destruction of the ecological unity of the bisected parks; and the disruption by noisy, high-speed traffic of the atmosphere of peace and mystery which is so essential a part of the redwood forest's spell.

This is the sort of desecration which all lovers of the redwoods, including Governor Brown, wish to prevent. And the only way to prevent it is to route the freeway around the parks, which means routing it through private lands. Whether we like it or not, this would mean that the freeway would traverse ground most of which already has been cut over. (At the present rate of logging, all virgin redwoods in private hands will be gone by 1980.) And I saw enough of these stump farms last year while doing research on my book, "The Last Redwoods," to know that you do not exaggerate when you describe them as "devastated areas" and "barren, logged-off wastelands."

And yet, if there is any validity to the "tree farm" idea, such areas will in time be clothed in a "second-growth" forest. And while such a forest will not match the virgin lands' glory for centuries, if ever, it will hide the havoc wrought by logging and will be sufficiently pleasing aesthetically to the freeway user barrelling along at 65 m.p.h. After all, even in the Humboldt redwoods where the freeway does plough through virgin stands, you do not zoom down the freeway if you really are interested in seeing redwoods. Instead you take the old Redwood Highway, now re-christened "Avenue of the Giants."

As I stressed in my book, not only aesthetics but ethics are involved in this freeway controversy. The thousands of individuals throughout the nation who have contributed to the Save-the-Redwoods League did so in the expectation that the groves purchased with their donations would be "preserved for all time." In accepting title to such groves from the league and incorporating them into the state parks system, the State of California assumed at least the moral responsibility to protect them from all forms of destruction—and this means destruction by freeways just as much as destruction by logging.

Any deviation from such a policy of total protection represents a breach of trust on the part of the state. And this trust is what Governor Brown has pledged himself to uphold. I think he deserves our respect, gratitude and support, rather than the sort of ill-founded chiding you gave him in your editorial.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

AN OLD BISHOP in the nation's capitol was sick to death of the endless Embassy parties he was expected to attend. At one of them he glanced sourly at the familiar cast of characters and sank into a comfortable chair. The hostess asked coyly, "A spot of tea, Bishop?" "No tea," he growled. "Coffee, Bishop?" "No coffee." An understanding woman, she whispered in his ear, "Scotch and soda, Bishop?" Said the Bishop, brightly, "No water."

DURING THE HEIGHT of a blizzard in Philadelphia last winter, a local radio station went on the air with a list of events that faced cancellation unless the snowfall ceased. Caskie Stinnett swears he heard this announcement: "The Back-to-Nature Club still plans to hold its scheduled hike tomorrow — provided the Market Street subway is operating."

SHAGGY DOGGEREL:

A moth crept out of a clothes closet, doubled up with pain, and mourned, "I'll have to stop eating overcoats. I'm getting ulsters of the stomach."

A termite interrupted his routine to tell another, "Oh boy, this will bring down the house."

And a bald eagle strutted about interminably, expanding his chest, spreading his wings, and looking too noble for words, until his mate pooh-poohed, "Oh, you, and your everlasting 'E pluribus unums!' "

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Robert Kennedy Still Faces Baker Problem

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Atty Gen. Robert Kennedy is facing what could be the most critical decision of his career—whether to authorize the convening of a grand jury to consider charges against Bobby Baker.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Herbert Miller, head of the criminal division, has indicated he will be ready to present such a case around mid-May.

Justice Department insiders credit Miller as favoring taking such action. But before he can proceed, it will be necessary for him to get the approval of his boss.

With no formal recommendations yet before him, Kennedy is portrayed as having "an open mind" on initiating legal action against the one-time influential $19,500-a-year secretary of the Senate Democrats. But Justice Department authorities are taking it for granted that if Miller advocates grand jury action, Kennedy will okay it.

It long has been an open secret that no love was lost between the young attorney general and the equally youthful Baker.

However, the backstage word is that Deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach is reputedly "dragging his feet." He is said to be counseling a "go slow" policy.

BEHIND THE SCENES, the question also is being raised of possible intense White House interest.

Walter Jenkins, among President Lyndon B. Johnson's closest assistants and until recently an official of the LBJ (radio-TV) Co., was involved in the stormy Senate investigation of Baker. Republicans made repeated efforts to have Jenkins summoned for direct interrogation, but were voted down by the Democratic majority.

Whether a grand jury probe of Baker would affect Jenkins or others close to the president is not known. But this point is being avidly discussed by politicos in both parties.

Privately apprized of the possible grand jury proceedings, they are intently watching what happens in both the Justice Department and the White House.

Involved in the issue of taking charges against Baker to a special federal grand jury is where it should be done, in the District of Columbia or the adjoining state of Maryland.

Baker's activities covered both jurisdictions.

ANOTHER potential problem is the report of the Senate investigating committee. This is now slated for some time in May, and is certain to be as furiously partisan as the probe has been.

The six Democratic committeemen will have a so-called majority report, and the three Republicans will have their own report. The two are certain to differ widely—with the Democrats soft-pedaling, and the Republicans castigating and excoriating right to the doorstep of the White House.

WHAT EFFECT, if any, these clashing findings would have on a grand jury investigation is conjectural. They are sure to have loud political impact.

Also still to be heard from are two other potentially decisive forces.

THAT TAX on gamblers Congress voted 12 years ago has had no effect on gambling and produced very little revenue. When this anti-gambling law was enacted (requiring gamblers to get a $50 license and turn over 10 per cent of their profits), the Treasury estimated it would produce 400 million dollars annual revenue. But after 12 years, the Treasury's total "take" is 86.9 million dollars — an average of approximately 7 million dollars a year.

Coordination, Cooperation Key To Way Of Life At Civic Center

THIS YEAR AT the Civic Center, so far, has been one for talk of coordination and cooperations, between departments, governments, interest groups.

City-county cooperation has been pushed, along with planning coordination. Museum and performing arts and science interests seem to be getting together. Science, photo and conservation and outdoor groups are expected to join to sponsor an educational program through the county schools office.

The most recent field to reach toward some sort of cooperation has been persons interested in the handicapped. The move was started late last year with the formation of a committee of parents of handicapped children to aid in setting policy for a special education program.

AT ABOUT THE same time, but apparently independently, members of several organizations interested in the handicapped, began to realize that recreation needs were special, costly and unfilled for the bulk of the county's handicapped people.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation District was approached and asked to help draw up a coordinated program.

Now, as far as the handicapped are concerned, the prospects look like a drive for a program to take care of all special needs of the handicapped, including the special need to be made non-special as a productive member of society.

THE CITIZENS' committee on special education has made a start in the direction of a total program, but the strains in the emotions of people involved personally began to show the first meeting.

What the group was talking about, when referring to a master plan for the handicapped, was a $20,000 study by a consultant. (It is virtually impossible to get anything started at the Civic Center without having a $20,000 study first.)

Hopefully, the study would pick out needs and set up a program for meeting them, over a period of years. But priorities would have to be set, and research in Marin County is needed.

Setting priorities will not be easy.

CONSIDER THE PLIGHT of the mother of a retarded child 16 years old. In two years he will leave school and the community has virtually no facilities to take care of him.

According to Helen Iles, supervisor of adult services of the welfare department, many of these persons simply disappear into homes in the county and are cared for by parents. The retarded person shows up on the welfare rolls when the parents die or become too old to care for the retarded individual.

THIS APPEARANCE may come 45 years later. Meanwhile the person has, for all intents and purposes, been kept in a closet in the back of a house somewhere in Marin County. Here is a legitimate cause for spending public money, this mother of the 16-year-old may say.

But sitting across the table will be the mother of a 3-year-old deaf child. This mother needs good diagnostic services and counselling. Neither is adequate in the county now, and San Francisco facilities are overcrowded.

Who makes the choice of where to spend the money first? The master plan would do so, but gaining agreement on provisions of such a plan will not be easy.

Envoys Have New Kits To Help During Anti-U.S. Demonstrations

WASHINGTON — When anything goes wrong in almost any country in the world, foreign students immediately demonstrate against a United States Embassy.

For a while the State Department was concerned about these demonstrations, but recently they feel they can be turned to some advantage and we were fortunate to get an interview with the new Deputy Assistant Under Secretary for Anti-American Demonstrations.

WHEN WE ENTERED his office we noticed photos of burning American automobiles on the walls, and behind his desk was a large map with a pin indicating every anti-American demonstration in the past year. There were so many pins on the map you couldn't see the names of the countries.

On the secretary's desk was a squashed tomato in bronze. He showed it to us. "This tomato was thrown at Richard Nixon in Venezuela. It was one of his six crises," he said proudly. "I kept it for sentimental reasons."

"You seem to have a large department," we said.

"It's growing by leaps and bounds," he replied happily. "The more demonstrations, the more people I can hire."

"Does the Department of State encourage anti-American demonstrations?"

"OF COURSE, we do," he said.

"Why?"

"Status. The State Department feels that when students attack an American Embassy it shows they care. We are also getting credit for many things we have had nothing to do with."

"But isn't it embarrassing?"

"For heaven's sakes, no. It's actually part of our policy. Look, we're supporting many unpopular governments throughout the world. We would much prefer the students to demonstrate against us than their own governments. We don't want their governments to fall."

"WHAT DOES your department do?"

"Well, one of the biggest things we've done this year, at a great saving to the taxpayer, I might add, is to ship abroad used automobiles that were ready for the graveyard. Our people park these cars around the American Embassy and then, when the students arrive, they destroy these cars instead of the good ones.

"My staff is also working on a bunker that can be installed under an Embassy flagpole. The bunker will be stocked with American flags, so every time the students tear down a flag, we can send another one up without fear of injury to any of our employees."

"WHAT ARE THOSE?" we asked, pointing to a box.

"These are our anti-American demonstration kits. Each diplomat is issued one. If he finds himself caught in a demonstration with a hostile crowd, he can hold up one of these anti-American signs to prove he is one of them.

"The kit contains band aids, splints and a first-aid book just in case the students are not convinced."

"WHAT DO YOU do about broken windows?"

"Each ambassador is responsible for his own windows and, if any are broken, it comes out of his allowance for entertaining foreigners."

"Do you have any rules during a demonstration that diplomats must adhere to?"

"We have only one rule that we're very strict about. If an American diplomat is showered with rotten vegetables or eggs during a demonstration, he must on no condition throw them back. Otherwise he would give the United States a bad name."

Incumbent Council Unfair

Tom Nelson Blasts Council On Former Mgr.

The current City Council — with the exception of Councilman Michael Wornum — has voiced many complaints about the able administrator they pressured into resigning—former City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

One of these unsubstantiated complaints was that Almcrants had failed to come up with a suitable retirement program for City employees.

"Few, if any, people know that an excellent retirement program—patterned after the State's retirement program—was offered City employees in the mid 1940s . . . and that it was turned down by the employees themselves," former City Attorney Thomas C. Nelson told the Citizens for Good Government of Mill Valley.

Nelson, who served as City Attorney from 1941 through 1961, said he feels the four city council members were "completely wrong" in criticizing Almcrants.

An Unusual Election

Former mayor, Robert Huber says that this is probably the most unusual political campaign that Mill Valley has ever seen since the first council was elected in 1900 Caliber of candidates is of the highest quality. There are two doctors running. Harassment of the single police force, the Citizens for Good Government, has been fantastic.

PROMPTNESS IS A VIRTUE

Incumbent City Councilman George D. Monardo, a hospital administrator by profession, quite rightfully demands that his doctors and nurses report for duty on time.

His position on promptness is one the Citizens for Good Government agrees with wholeheartedly.

We wonder, therefore, why Mr. Monardo—who is seeking re-election based on "my record"—sometimes fails to arrive at City Council meetings on time . . . and, sometimes, fails to arrive at all.

Possibly he should practice what he preaches.

Vote For Three In This Election

Supporters of certain City Council candidates are advocating that the citizens of Mill Valley give up two-thirds of their franchise by casting a ballot for only one man.

There are three seats vacant.

There are eight men running.

The Citizens for Good Government urge you to exercise your FULL right — vote for THREE men of YOUR choice.

Today 5,200 Voters Seccor Won In '62

In the April 1962 election William Seccor won first place by 1660 votes. Second was Joseph Sheeks with 1542 votes. As of today there are approximately 5,200 registered voters in the City of Mill Valley.

John Finn Makes Charge On Development

The "narrow-minded conservatism" of the incumbent Mill Valley city council with regard to commercial development is deplorable, John Finn III said today.

Finn, a native of Mill Valley and a candidate for one of the three council seats to be filled in the April 14 election, said, "I love this town and do not want to see it ruined.

"But to say, as our present council does, 'there shall be no change,' is just plain silly.

"Why, when I was a boy, we used to shoot ducks in the marshlands along Miller Avenue. That area is filled with houses now.

"In order to grow and develop, there must be change—reasonable and orderly change."

Finn said the city council should work toward the development of usable commercial land in Mill Valley instead of against it.

"This is a sound way of increasing the city's revenues and lowering our tax rate," Finn declared.

"I will work toward these goals if I am elected."

Finn concluded by saying, "It seems to me that everyone wants to be the last person allowed to live in Mill Valley. 'I'm here. Shut down the Golden Gate Bridge,' would appear to be the consensus. But we cannot afford to be smug about our Mill Valley way of living."

Bill Fenney '6th Councilman' Speaks On Council

William P. Feeney, Mill Valley's most dedicated attender of council meetings, charged today that the majority of the incumbent council members have become "council managers."

Feeney, retired utilities executive who has come to be known as the city's "sixth councilman" through his constant attendance, explained:

"From 1948 until 1962 we had a strong council-manager form of government. The council let the city manager carry out policy and did not interfere in the running of his office.

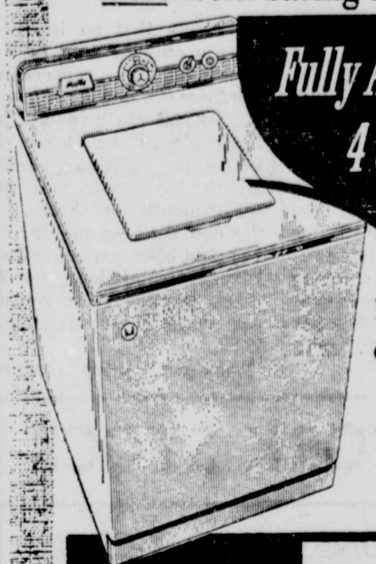

"But since April 1962, the majority of the council members have become council managers and interfered with the running of the office of city manager by giving individual orders to the heads of different departments without going through the office of the city manager.

"This is why I am against the policy of the present city council."

There Is Danger In Speculating

Psychology Of Stock Market Timing

(Fifth in a series)

The best way to keep people who should not speculate from doing so is to educate them as to its dangers. But no matter how often the dangers may be stressed, there are certain people who just never will be convinced, except by their own personal experiences.

To eliminate costly guesswork and remove discretion from situations where clear thinking may be swayed by too much optimism, or pessimism, many traders use mechanical timing or trading formulas, which prescribe definite action to take place when prices reach a certain level.

By determining buying and selling points automatically, they reduce the responsibility of fund management to a simple application of the formula rules.

Formulas preclude selling at the bottom, except in rare instances. They contemplate action that is founded on the assumption that certain price levels will be attained eventually. If these levels have been touched before, the formula theorizes they will again. If they have never been reached, the formula assumes that they will.

The simplest type of formula divides the portfolio in two: common stocks constitute the aggressive side; bonds, preferred stocks and cash the defensive side. Exact proportions may vary according to individual requirements. But, since stocks are the volatile element, the plan is generally set in terms of a stock index that is geared to a "normal ratio" of prices over a period of time.

Whenever the index reaches a predetermined level, above or below "normal," a certain percentage of stocks is switched automatically into bonds, or vice versa.

Take, for example, a portfolio that is half in common stocks and half in bonds. Normal is 600 on the Dow-Jones Industrials. A 10 per cent rise above 600 might call for a 10 per cent reduction in common stocks and a proportionate shift into bonds.

A further advance of 10 per cent would reduce the common stock position to 30 per cent, while bonds are increased to 70 per cent. Reverse shifts occur from bonds into stocks during a decling period. Of course, if the market sold off sharply enough, or continued to move straight up, an all common stock, or a 100 per cent bond portfolio, would result.

The formula works best when the market's range of fluctuation is relatively narrow. When movements are wide, particularly at rising prices, results from the method are not so good.

No formula in the world will prevent holdings from showing a loss when stocks drop below their original purchase prices. Yet by whittling the average of prices paid for stocks, it is possible to modify the risks which accompany any securities venture.

This may be accomplished by a formula process known as "dollar cost averaging," which lessens the frequency of loss and multiplies the occasions for profit. The formula requires that nearly identical amounts of money be invested at regularly spaced intervals of time, and it works best when stocks fluctuate widely.

Assume that an investor, who is able to save $100 a month, makes consecutive purchases of the same stock at 5, 4 and 2½ a share. The first month he buys 20 shares for $100, the second month 25 shares and the third month 40 shares. At the end of three months he has paid $300, excluding brokerage commissions, for 85 shares of stock. Average cost per share is approximately $3.83.

Temporary price reactions are beneficial, in that you buy more shares when prices are low and fewer shares when they are high. Over the long run your purchases will have been made at a better-than-average price. That is the key to dollar averaging. Assuming that the stock you choose is not always in a declining trend, you will come out ahead.

Big Wheat Crop Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agriculture department today predicted that a winter wheat crop of 1,010,679,000 bushels will be harvested this year.

This forecast compares with production of 904,828,000 bushels of winter wheat in 1963.

The predicted 1964 winter wheat crop, added to a possible spring wheat crop of 262,000,000 bushels, would mean a total wheat crop of 1,272,679,000 bushels this year. This compares with total wheat production of 1,137,641,000 bushels in 1963.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Giants To Win N.L., It Says Here; Hey, Look Who He Picks For Second

If John J. (for Jints) Connolly will pardon the intrusion into the realm he dominates on these pages, I'll yield to public pressure and herewith predict the order of finish in the 1964 National League pennant race. Clip and paste to bank book and reap a rich harvest in October. 1, San Francisco. 2, Philadelphia. 3, Los Angeles. 4. St. Louis. 5. Milwaukee. 6. Chicago. 7. Cincinnnati. 8. Pittsburgh. 9. Houston. 10. New York.

P.S. "Public Pressure" means "Demanding Family" in a columnist's dictionary.

PRUDENCE BAXTER

PRIOR TO the opening of each hunting season, hunters are reminded to sight-in their rifles. Thus, with the opening of the N.L. season next Tuesday, we remind you that it's time to check over your transistor. No sense starting the long campaign with weak tubes.

BY A GIGANTIC stretch of the imagination, the boys down at Redwood High have come up with a parlay that could establish their baseball team as the best in the world. It's a bit involved, so please bear with us.

Tomorrow, Redwood's Giants play the University of Santa Clara freshmen who already this season have beaten their varsity team which is the top-ranked collegiate nine in the U.S. Next Monday the Santa Clara varsity plays the San Francisco Giants in an exhibition.

Now here's the parlay: If Redwood beats the Santa Clara frosh who already have beaten their varsity and the Santa Clara varsity beats the Giants and the Giants win the National League and win the World Series, Redwood will claim the World Championship.

Now THERE'S a stretch of the imagination.

However Redwood should have considerable trouble getting past the Bronco yearlings tomorrow. The Santa Clara frosh have one helluva ball club. Besides beating their varsity three times, they have smashed Mission High (20-0), Buscher High of San Jose (15-0) USF Frosh (20-0), San Jose State Frosh (15-0) and Cal Frosh (13-1).

TERRA LINDA High's baseballers have been flexing their muscles on the junior varsity level with seven victories in eight games. Latest victory was a 25-2 rout of Encinal High of Alameda the other day in which Craig Hill cracked out five hits and Dale White hit a grand slam besides pitching the victory.

TRICKS OF THE TRADE: The boss used to say, "Run a picture of a pretty gal and you will get readers."

Which is one reason why Prudence Baxter's purty picture decorates this column today. The other reason is to let you know that Prudence (of Sausalito) and five other Marin residents will be driving sports cars in the Opener '64 Grand Prix road races at Vaca Valley Raceway tomorrow and Sunday.

Miss Baxter, the lovliest leadfoot in the sport, will drive a Lotus II.

The other Marin drivers and their cars: Walt Benson, Sausalito, Porsche Speedster; Nick Reynolds, Sausalito, Bourgeault Formula Junior owned and built by N. A. Bourgeault of Mill Valley; Robin Jackson, Mill Valley, Triumph TR-3; Edwin G. Marshall, Kentfield, 1963 Lotus Super 7 roaders; George F. D. Pridmore, Tiburon, Stanguellini Formula Junior.

Action starts at 9 a.m. both days on the seven-turn, 2-1-mile course near Vacaville.

TWO FORMER Marin Athletic League stars are on Cal's spring football roster. Both sophomore halfbacks, they are Steve Solinski (Redwood), a 5-11, 190-pounder, and Mike Shafer (San Rafael High), 6-1, 170.

Both lettered for Cal's unbeaten frosh team last year. Solinski was the Bear Cubs' third leading rusher with 205 yards in 40 carries for a 5.1 average.

THE 100-YARD dash in Tuesday's Redwood-Drake track meet turned out to be a 120-yard dash because starter Bob Troppmann started the sprinters from the wrong place. Tropp, whose main forte is football, should know 100 yards when he see it; perhaps he was thinking of end zone to end zone?

HERE'S A BOLD challenge: Frank Burch, coach of the eighth grade baseball team at St. Vincent's School, says: "We can beat any team in our age level in Marin County!" Any teams who think otherwise can arrange a game by contacting Burch at the school.

Meadow Clubber Wins Tournament

Mrs. Alfred Quilici of the Meadow Club in Fairfax fired an 84 to win low gross honors yesterday in the Marin Golf and Country Club's women's guest day golf tournament. One hundred twenty-seven players participated.

Low net scores in the handicap competition:

Class B—Mrs. E. F. Rotman, Crystal Springs, 89-17—72; Mrs. William Wieland, Marin, 92-17—75; Mrs. Robert Vannucci, Marin, 93-17—76.

Class C—Mrs. Robert Peterzon, Marin, 90-20—70; Mrs. Julius Block, Lake Merced, 90-19—71; Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw, Marin, 94-19—75.

Wrestling On Rise

GREELEY, Colo. (AP)—About 200 high school wrestling coaches in the state are former athletes of Coach John Hancock at Colorado State College. When Hancock staged the first prep tournament in Colorado in 1936, there were only nine high school wrestling teams in the whole state.

'Arnie's Army' Is On The March Again

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Arnie's Army was singing "Marching Through Georgia" today.

The "King," Arnold Palmer, was back on his throne — at least temporarily — after he regained the touch that has been missing for six months and shot his way into the first round lead of the Masters golf tournament.

Actually, Palmer's 69 yesterday only tied him for the lead with four others. But his "Army," which reacted emotionally to his every move, left no doubt that they thought he now should be favored to become the first four-time winner of the Masters as he goes into the second round paired with skinny Chi Chi Rodriguez.

The other four leaders included little Gary Player, the former Masters champ from South Africa who is carrying a tonsilitis handicap; Kel Nagle, the 43-year-old former British Open titlist; handsome Bob Goalby and little-known Davis Love Jr., a club pro from Charlotte, N.C., who hasn't won a dime in three previous tournament appearances this year.

Going into today's second round, these five held a one-stroke lead over a packed field, with favored Jack Nicklaus two strokes back at 71.

Yesterday's torrid sun dried up the damage caused by two torrential rains in a three-day period and the course played at a sub-par pace.

A total of 15 players were under the par 72 mark and four more matched it. The starting field of 96 of the world's best professionals and amateurs will be cut in half after today's second round and if today's performance matches the first, it will take a 148 for 36 holes to stay in the tournament.

Billy Joe Patton, the North Carolina amateur who missed the 1964 title by a lone shot, came on strong yesterday with an eagle on the par five 15th hole but ended up one stroke back when he bogeyed the 18th.

Tied with Patton with two-under-par 70s were slender Don January, former U.S. Open champion Gene Littler and Dave Marr, who is having his best of 11 years on the pro tour.

The old guard did not fare as well as had been expected. Ben Hogan, who made it clear he came to win, had a 73 and three-time champion Sam Snead, who had been playing great golf, wound up at 79—seven over par.

Sam Huff Traded To Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Redskins, swinging their second major National Football League deal within 10 days, acquired linebacker Sam Huff from the New York Giants today for two players and a draft choice.

Huff, an eight-year veteran in the league, is rated one of the top middle linebackers in professional football and has been a key player on the Giant team that has won Eastern titles the past three years.

Defensive end Andy Stynchula, halfback Dick James and the Redskins' next No. 5 draft choice were sent to the Giants in exchange for Huff and rookie defensive lineman George Seals of Missouri.

EARLIER TRADE

Ten days ago Coach Bill McPeak traded quarterback Norman Snead and defensive back Claude Crabb for two veteran Philadelphia players, quarterback Sonny Jurgenson and defensive halfback Jimmy Carr.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLF STAR SCORES ACE

Buzz Beattie, a member of the Redwood High School golf team, scored the first ace of his life Wednesday while practicing with the team at the Mill Valley course.

Beattie aced the 134-yard eighth hole, using an 8-iron. His hole-in-one was witnessed by teammates Don Anderson, Randy Patterson and Greg Kast.

Boles' Bat Sparks Tacoma To Victory

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) — The Tacoma Giants, with Carl Boles knocking in four runs, thumped Ft. Worth of the Texas League yesterday, 9-2.

Boles smashed a home run, double and single to help the Giants square their exhibition season mark at 9-9.

Jerry Thomas pitched effectively during the first six innings for Tacoma to get the win. But reliever Bill Hands sealed it by retiring all nine batters that he faced in the last three frames.

Marichal Shines, Gaints Rip Tribe

STOCKTON (UPI)—It may come as no surprise to the rest of the National League to learn that Juan Marichal is ready to go for the 1964 season.

Marichal tossed five shutout innings yesterday at Modesto as the San Francisco Giants returned to their winning ways against Cleveland with a 9-3 pasting. It was the Giants' 10th win in 11 meetings this spring with the Tribe.

Marichal, who will face Milwaukee's Warren Spahn in next Tuesday's National League opener, has pitched in three varsity games this spring. He has won all three, allowing four hits and no runs in 13 innings. He won 25 games last year and appears ready to exceed that total this time around.

Ron Herbel, who also has had a good spring, finished up for the Giants and got touched for three runs in four innings. But by that time San Francisco was so far ahead, it may have been hard for Ron to keep his mind on the job.

San Francisco pasted Cleveland pitching for 16 hits yesterday in another muscular show. Jim Ray Hart pushed his average up to .373 when he belted his third home run of the season and three singles.

Willie McCovey contributed a double and two singles to hike his mark up to .390. And Jesus Alou had a couple of hits to end the day at .388.

But these averages are pretty anemic when compared to Orlando Cepada. He belted a double and two singles to climb to a stratospheric .457. They just can't get the big guy out.

The Giants salted away the win with six big runs in the sixth. They came off Pedro Ramos, whom the Giants have battered all spring.

Willie Mays took over the first base coaching duties. He was out of action with a sore wrist after getting plunked on a pick-off attempt Wednesday. But he'll probably play tomorrow at Sacramento.

Second baseman Jimmy Davenport left for Alabama upon learning that his mother had passed away. He was expected to return in time for the National League opener.

The Giants faced Cleveland again here today.

Tam Rec District Slate Continues

Morning sessions of the Tamalpais High School Recreation District will continue through April and May on Saturday mornings, it was announced today by Ray Bell, recreation director.

The recreation district provides classes in swimming, tennis, baseball, trampoline, tumbling and baton twirling from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

It is open to boys and girls 6 through 14. There is still plenty of room for youngsters in the program, Bell said.

RECORD CROWDS GREET MARIN TOWN & COUNTRY CLUB OPENING: When the Bay Area's favorite "sun and fun" spot opened recently, it was the signal for the largest outpouring of "fun in the sun" fans in Fairfax history. Marin Town & Country Club's SIX glittering pools; the acres of lush lawns; the basketball, tennis and volleyball courts were absolutely jammed with "sun worshipping" families eager for their first outing at Marin Town & Country Club. Only 30 minutes from either San Francisco or Oakland, Marin Town & Country Club has long been the "place to go" for recreation and relaxation for the harried businessman, the harassed mother and the "family that plays together." A delightful spot for group of family picnics, Marin Town & Country Club has built an eviable reputation as THE ONE SPOT where you can enjoy a hurried holiday; leisurely weekend or a lengthy vacation . . . yet still be close enough to home to make it all so very convenient, so delightfully comfortable. Marin Town & Country Club can be reached by turning left at the Greenbrae Junction on Highway 101 in Marin County. (Adv.)

If You Like Variety, Try Fishing Near China Camp; They're Biting

STEVENS

They say that variety is the spice of life, so if you happen to like spices and want a mixed bag of fish, you might try going out to China Camp one of these days.

Grace Quan just informed me that perch (redtails), flounders, stripers and sturgeon have been brought in the past two fishable days. Which, of course, doesn't mean that said variety are in limit quantities. But, Grace did rate fishing on Tuesday and Wednesday as fair to good—particularly in the Shell Bank sector.

W. SANTANE registered in with a 46-pound sturgeon on Tuesday and the cruiser Busy Bee had hauled aboard another, and somewhat larger, sturgeon and was still fishing at 2 p.m. on Wednesday.

Don't, please, get the impression that fishing is as it was before the tidal wave messed up the San Pablo Bay. But it's been at least fair whenever the elements allowed the hungry horde to try their luck.

I TALKED to Suetta LaGrone of Dillon's Point on Wednesday and learned that when the weather allowed, stripers and flounders have been taken, not limits, but a fair showing for the effort expended. Oldtime plugcaster Cenor Reed took his limit of bass but not up to the usual weight he had been used to. The best catch seems to have been the 23-pounder landed by Roy Davis of Vallejo.

On the Contra Costa side of the bay the high winds and choppy water have limited the Dowrelio Party boats to minimum loads over the weekend, but on Tuesday and Wednesday the calmer weather encouraged the skippers who report fishing is improving.

NO NEWS anent the back country, but I learned that the Estuary off the Naval Air Station is still yielding some fair to good catches. I was told that a 22-pounder was weighed in at the San Leandro Marina, but couldn't verify the report. Most of the action in that sector has been on live bait.

Speaking of bait, Audrey Payne called to inform that the San Lorenzo Bait Shop now has a good supply of huge pile worms. Some years ago the pile worm was considered one of the most attractive baits to tempt the striper. Incidentally here are congraulations to Phylis Gavello for the very nice 16¼-pound bass she landed in Honker Bay recently. Also to the lady's fishing mates, Harold and Vince Walton. Four stripers were taken. The above reported by Audrey Payne of San Lorenzo Bait.

THE STAGNAROS of Santa Cruz sent word that after the spell of inclement weather, deep-sea rock fishing has perked up considerable. On the long distance trip to New Year's Island on Saturday, for example, 30 ling cod to 19 pounds along with assorted rockfish were hauled over the side. "The local, daily deep sea trips have furnished limits and near limits of assorted rockfish when weather and water permitted fishing in the productive haunts." Salmon fish out of Santa Cruz continues to be bad.

Salmon trolling looks quite promising, but salmon trollers apparently are home-bound. On Tuesday the Sea Horse had but netted eight salmon to 20 pounds; the Chinook left the harbor with only three passengers and collected seven salmon to 20 pounds. Listening to my Halicrafter Wednesday I gathered that these two boats already had 8 to 10 fish in the box. And that's it for today. Chow!

Warriors In Poor Shape; Seals Battle Hex In L. A.

Ailing S. F. Hoopsters Host Hawks At Palace

The San Francisco Warriors and St. Louis Hawks go into the fifth game at the Cow Palace tonight starting at 8:30 o'clock, tied 2-2 in their best-of-seven series for the right to meet the Boston Celtics for the championship of the National Basketball Assn.

The defending champion Celtics captured the Eastern Division title last night by defeating Cincinnati 109-95 for a 4-1 series triumph.

The sixth game of the Hawks-Warriors Western Division championship playoff moves to St. Louis Sunday night. If a seventh game is needed, the teams return to the Cow Palace on an undetermined date next week.

St. Louis has won the first and third games; San Francisco the second and fourth. The last Warrior victory was Wednesday night 111-109 in St. Louis.

VISIT HOSPITAL

Three Warriors stopped by St. Mary's Hospital on their return to San Francisco. Wayne Hightower was treated for a severely turned right angle; Al Attlee for a pulled thigh muscle and Nate Thurmond for a dust particle in his eye.

In addition, Wilt Chamberlain jammed a big toe, Tom Meschery bruised his broken finger and Gary Phillips' injured ankle and leg were heavily taped.

Guy Rodgers, Gary Hill and George Lee are the only players reporting hale and hearty to Coach Alex Hannum.

Hannum was keeping the closest watch on Hightower, counted on to guard Hawk star Bob Pettit.

Crucial In Southland For Defending Champs

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The San Francisco Seals go for the split tonight.

Down one game in their best-of-seven Les Patrick Cup finals, the defending champions need to crack the Los Angeles Sports Arena hex in order to come home with any chance against the Los Angeles Blades.

The Seals dropped their eighth straight in the Sports Arena in Wednesday night's playoff opener, 3-1.

"We played well," said playing coach Nick Mickoski yesterday. "We'll get sharper as the series goes along. The layoff since the Portland playoffs slowed us a little."

He pointed out that two Seals shots bounced off the goalposts and suggested that Mo Mantha's one Seals tally gave the team a psychological lift.

FOUR SHUTOUTS

Blades rookie Jack Norris had shut out the Seals four times in Los Angeles and "if Norris had shut us out again, we certainly would have reason to wonder," Mickoski said.

The coach added that Norris was not all that tough Wednesday and the trouble was "our lack of taking advantage of our power-play opportunities."

"Our power play has not been going well the past two games. We'll have to adjust it. We've not been sharp coming out of our end and then putting together a play pattern in the offensive end."

Schenley Salmon Contest Underway

Siro Testa of San Rafael was a double winner and P. G. Masulis of Novato was also a winner in the first week of the Schenley Sportsmen's Club salmon fishing contest, it was announced today.

Testa caught a 23½-pounder and an 18-pound, 12-ounce salmon near China Camp and Masulis caught a 30-pound lunker near the Shell Wharf.

PASTRANO-PERALTA

Champ Only Even Bet In Title Go

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lightheavyweight champion Willie Pastrano defends his crown against Argentine challenger Gregorio Peralta tonight in a 15-round scrap just a stone's throw from Pastrano's native French Quarter.

For Pastrano, it will be the first defense of the title he won last June in a close decision over Harold Johnson in Las Vegas.

It will also be the largest purse in the 12½-year pro career of Pastrano, who now fights out of Miami Beach, Fla.

Peralta, virtually unknown until he conquered Pastrano last Sept. 20 in a 10-round nontitle bout, hopes to become the first South American big man to win a world professional boxing title.

The championship fight, in the city's Municipal Auditorium, will be nationally telecast by ABC starting at 10 p.m., PST.

Pastrano was rated only even money by the oddmakers, even though this is his native city.

Peralta will be going the 15-round distance for the first time in his career. The 6-foot, wide-shouldered Argentine will also be fighting at a weight—175 — he hasn't made in more than a year.

THIRD RANKED

The Latin challenger, third ranked contender, weighed 183½ pounds to Pastrano's 179 in their first fight.

Both fighters are 28. The champion has a 61-12-8 record including 12 knockouts while Peralta, undefeated in his last 29 bouts, shows a 39-3-4 mark, including 18 kayoes.

Earlier Starting Times Would Solve Candlestick Wind Problem

CONNOLLY

San Francisco, "the city that knows how," seems to have completely lost its touch as far as helping solve a serious local baseball problem is concerned.

I'm referring to the city-owned playground known as Candlestick Park.

Ever since the Giants moved here the City of San Francisco has been held up to ridicule all over the USA. They say the Giants' home playing field is a dedicated wind-tunnel; it needs a dome, a heating plant, moving sidewalks and whatnot.

Yet there is a very sensible solution to the annoyance from the wind. I claim the only fault with Candlestick Park is the stubborness of Giant management. They insist on starting games at 1 p.m. and night games at 8:15 p.m. when all they have to do is start 'em one hour earlier and they'll escape the swift breezes. Anytime the wind cuts up real bad, it is after 3 p.m. and with a noon time starting, the ball game would be over before the rollicking breezes get to acting wildly.

ONE REASON for the hesitancy of the Giants in moving up the starting time of day games, is they say, fans like to lunch before the game starts. That is a lot of hooey. Fans going to a 1 o'clock game are on their way at 12 o'clock. And besides, if an afternoon game were to be completed before 3:30 most of the salesmen could be back in their offices or attending to their customers before checking into the office at 5 p.m.

Sunday games, they say, would cause a furor from the churches if started at noon. Church goers are through with the services and on their way to the park at noon. They are early bird fellows who map their schedule pretty minutely.

NIGHT GAMES, if they started at 7:30, would enable the fans to be home earlier, escape the cold approaching midnight air and be snuggled off to the couch hours ahead of the schedule they must follow at the present starting times.

The bad publicity, the annoying winds and the early starting time of ball games, be they day or night, would soon be forgotten if the club was winning.

If you like or prefer an earlier starting time, let the Giant management know about it and let's see what happens?

Jockey Only 17, But He's A Big Winner At Golden Gate

By JACK STEVENSON

ALBANY (AP) — Hotest jockey in the West is a 17-year-old who quit high school to enter the profession he learned to love while following in his father's footsteps.

Clay Brinson's latest triumph was with Sari's Song on Wednesday in the $10,000 added Berkeley Handicap at Golden Gate Fields as the speedy gal won the filly championship of the meeting.

With the victory, Brinson boosted his meet-leading record to 28 winners, 11 ahead of his nearest rival.

Even though Sari's Song went off the betting favorite, she and her young rider had no easy time and it took some stout handling to bring her home the winner of this mile race.

Brinson, son of veteran trainer Ross Brinson, was born near Bay Meadows at San Mateo and went to school at Duarte, not far from Santa Anita.

"I decided after my sophomore year in high school that I wanted to ride and had better get started," says the jockey who still gets the five-pound apprentice allowance.

He had to get up at 5:30 a.m., get out to Santa Anita and then walk, gallop and breeze the thoroughbreds.

FIRST MOUNT

His first mount in a race was one called Battle Mountain on Jan. 22, 1963, at Santa Anita. "We were next to last or maybe last," he recalls. "The fifth horse I rode I won with."

Brinson recalled the mount was Brer Rabbit and it was the jockey's first race at 1 1/16 mile.

"That's still the race I remember the most," he says. "We were head and head with the leaders and then moved up to first."

Glad he made the decision, Brinson still worries about gaining weight although he's put on only two or three pounds since starting to ride and can make 107 with ease.

Since starting a little over a year ago, the busy booter has been aboard 1,339 mounts, brought home 182 winners, placed second 166 times and third 143.

He's in demand even for stakes races where ofter he doesn't get the five-pound apprentice allowance. In any event he loses that advantage on the 20th of this month.

TOP AMBITION

"I think it will hurt me a little," he admits. "When anybody loses the bug it hurts." Still he looks forward to the future and those $50,000 and $100,000 races. His top ambition — winning the Kentucky Derby and the Santa Anita Handicap.

Clay's career nearly ended shortly after it began. Spilled at Bay Meadows, he suffered cracked vertebrae and was out of racing two months.

He came back to be the leading rider at Tanforan and Golden Gate Fields last fall and the leading apprentice at Santa Anita this year.

Brinson looks like the youngster taking your daughter to the high school junior prom, but turf experts are predicting he'll be one of the sport's leading riders in the not too distant future.

Capt Carris L. Radcliffe won six firsts and T/Sgt. R. H. Fisher captured two first places.

REPORT FROM CASA GRANDE

Japanese Rookies Unimpressive

By DICK STUART

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)— The San Francisco Giants are not exactly elated over the three teen-age Japanese baseball players they've imported, and the players aren't too happy with their training.

The opinions were expressed during interviews this week at the Giants' minor league training camp, Francisco Grande, near the central Arizona city of Casa Grande.

The Giants are the first major league team to impart Japanese talent, thanks to owner Horace Stoneham's friendship with Cappy Harada.

Harada, who has an interest in the Nankai Hawks baseball team in Japan, signed pitcher Masanori Murakami, third baseman Tatsukiko Tanaka and catcher Hiroshi Takahashi to Giant contracts.

The three high school graduates, who speak very little English, are training with the Giants' Fresno team of the Class C California State League.

Of the course, Fresno Manager Bill Werle praised most the 19-year-old Murakami, a 6-foot, 175-pound lefthander.

"He's got control, an excellent curve and a fair fastball," Werle said. "He could do alright at Fresno, but the other two probably will be sent to Class D or rookie league teams."

Of Tanaka and Takahashi, Werle said:

"They've shown up well in the field, but they've done very little with the bat.

"We know Japanese players don't have great power, but we did expect these kids to hit better."

The players themselves, through an interpreter, said they don't feel they are playing enough.

"In Japan," said the more talkative Murakami, "we run and get in shape for two weeks before we even play any ball. Here, they've had us playing games since our arrival and we've been doing a lot of sitting around. I feel the Japanese players train much harder than the Americans."

Murakami, however, has done alright in spring games. In nine innings he's walked one and struck out five batters. "My biggest worry," he said, is giving up home runs. I know American hitters are powerful." To date, however, he's served but one home run ball.

The 5-10 Tanaka, who at 17 is the youngest of the trio, and Takahaski, 18, said they've had some trouble with the strike zone.

"In Japan," Tanaka said, "the strike zone is at the letters on our uniforms. Here is goes from the knees to the shoulders, and it has caused problems."

He knows of what he speaks, with just 7 hits in 40 at bats for a .175 average. The 5-7 Takahashi's average is .367 with four hits in 11 tries.

The players agreed that Takahashi has had the most trouble adapting to American play.

"The pitchers," he said, "it is hard to communicate with them. They don't always understand what I want them to do."

Jack Schwarz, administrative secretary to the Giants' farm system, emphasized the Giants don't consider their signing of the players a goodwill gesture. "We want to find out," he said, "if Japanese players can play American type baseball.

"Everything has to start somewhere and without a doubt some time in the future there will be a Japanese player in our major leagues. Whether it's one of these boys only time will tell."

Swedish Colonel Due Trial For Spying

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Col. Stig Wennerstrom goes on trial tomorrow as a master spy accused of betraying Sweden's top defense secrets to the Soviet Union over a 15-year period.

A jury of nine, including five women, will decide his fate.

The prosecution calls him Sweden's most dangerous spy in modern times.

It says he has confessed he sold Sweden's top defense secrets to the Soviets from 1948 until his arrest last June. He knew a lot about the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defenses and weapons and presumably passed this on to Moscow but will be tried only for betrayal of Sweden.

The story that will unfold includes attendance at a Soviet spy school in Moscow while he served as Swedish air attache there; a secret room in his lavish villa where he received radioed instructions from the Russians; and exchanges of microfilm rolls during handshakes with Russians at diplomatic receptions in Stockholm.

Wennerstrom moved from one key position to another. Each gave him access to all the information on Sweden's defense plans and its defense forces—and to some on NATO—that he wanted to see.

Although neutral Sweden is not a member of NATO he visited NATO military installations. He was friendly with many top Western diplomats here. From 1952 to 1957 he served as Swedish air attache in Washington. The United States honored him with its Legion of Merit when he left.

Interrogators took a month to break down Wennerstrom's pleas of innocence. They say he confessed only when confronted with irrefutable evidence, including films of classified information which Wennerstrom's maid had found in his villa.

The trial is expected to last four weeks. The maximum sentence that he can draw is life imprisonment.

The 57-year-old colonel is confined in a special cell in Stockholm's police headquarters. He is under 24-hour watch by alternating teams of two guards in an adjacent room. The lights never are turned out in his cell.

He eats with a spoon. He is not permitted to use a knife or fork for fear of a suicide attempt. He is not allowed a belt or suspenders for the same reason.

He exercises on a rooftop that is covered by a net to prevent anything being thrown to him from adjoining buildings.

Navy Veteran Given Marin Recruiter Duty

Chief Robert E. Betts, a 25-year Navy veteran on his first tour of duty as a recruiter, has been assigned to the Navy's recruiting office in San Rafael, succeeding Chief R. L. Petzhold.

Betts, a chief aviation ordinanceman's mate, was assigned to a fighter squadron at Miramar Naval Air Station, San Diego County, before he was transferred to San Rafael.

Betts was serving aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet, the ship that carried Gen. James Doolittle's bombers on their famed Tokyo raid, when it was sunk in October, 1942.

A native of Circleville, Ohio, he enlisted in 1939 and served at Norfolk, Va., before being assigned to the Hornet.

After the sinking he served at Alameda Naval Air Station and a series of auxiliary air stations in California until the end of World War II.

Chief Betts served as an ordinance instructor and technical advisor on aviation mobile training in the post-war years.

During two tours of duty as a technical advisor at Memphis, Tenn., he served as bandmaster, playing the mellophone and leading a 75-piece marching band and 15-piece dance band.

San Diego to San Rafael

Recent sea duty includes three Pacific cruises and a trip around Cape Horn aboard the Lexington.

His wife, Joan, and four children, Judy, 12; Linda, 15; Larry, 14, and Charlene, 8, are living at Poway, San Diego County, and will move to Marin County at the close of the school year.

More Metals Engineers Asked

NEW YORK (UPI) — An increased demand for young engineers as a result of increased production and higher metals prices in the minerals industry is predicted by Dr. Sanford S. Cole, president of the Society of Mining Engineers.

"The mineral industry, one of the four basic industries by which wealth is created, requires engineers with training in several disciplines," Cole told a recent meeting of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers.

"As a result, the current shortage of engineering students and graduates is a matter of grave concern to the Society of Mining Engineers.

Robins Wall-Eyed; It's The Berries

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Red pyracantha berries are being blamed for making robins drunk in this southern Arizona resort city.

This is possible because the berries ferment and are an outside attraction to hungry robins. But John Schaefer, head of the Tucson Audubon Society, suspects the birds are not drunk all the time — merely over-stuffed.

Crescent City Again Ready For Visitors

Word from motel owners in Crescent City today assured travelers to that Redwood Empire community that tourist services are back to normal after the disastrous tidal wave of March 28.

Only a small percentage of Crescent City's 20 motels suffered any damage in the freak flood, owners reported to the Redwood Empire Assn., and these have restored full operations.

Most of the town's accommodations are on high ground, or some distance removed from the sea.

A few blocks in Crescent City's downtown, beach-front sector remain roped-off, authorities said, but the rest of the community's facilities are available for travelers.

That's Too Safe, Man! Where Is It, Anyway?

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP) — A bank bag containing an estimated $10,000 was missing for more than 24 hours before it was found in the trunk of a police car.

Police said the bag was one of four put in the trunk when officers accompanied bank employees on a currency pickup from the Federal Reserve Bank of Los Angeles.

Beatles Cause Disc Company Overtime

NEW YORK (AP) — The country's No. 1 selling long-playing record, "Meet the Beatles," had sold 1,800,000 copies on Feb. 13. It was issued Jan. 20.

Capitol Records, which issued the LP, expects sales to reach 2½ or 3 million. The company said on Feb. 13 it was behind 280,000 in orders in this city alone.

People Greatest Interest Of Outdoor Art Club's President

Mrs. Cecil Brown, who was elected president of the Outdoor Art Club of Mill Valley yesterday, has been proving her leadership ability ever since she joined the club four years ago.

In 1961, Lois served as tea chairman, and for the past three years has been the club's ways and means chairman.

Her "fun for funds" parties have been financial successes. The women who have worked with her say that she has actually made enjoyable the necessary business of raising money.

"PEOPLE," she says, "are my greatest interest. I enjoy bringing out the talents of others and encouraging people to undertake activities they have never tried before."

Her capacity for organization is abetted by her thoughtfulness in giving others credit. Conscientiousness and thoroughness do not dull her sense of humor, for the new president has a faculty for putting everyone in a party mood. A keynote of Lois's leadership is the enjoyment others derive from working with her.

A native of California, born, reared and educated in Berkeley, Lois has lived in Mill Valley 17 years. Before coming to Marin County she had 15 years' experience in retailing as buyer, merchandising and personnel director for the Capwell Emporium Co. and the Dohrmann Commercial Co. in Oakland.

MRS. CECIL BROWN

Combining Lois's business background and Cecil's electronic knowledge, the Browns established one of Marin's first radio and television services.

Both their daughter, Sandy, 15, and son, Mike, 13, were born in Mill Valley.

ACTIVE IN youth organizations, Mrs. Brown says, "My experiences in youth groups has been enlightening and rewarding."

She has served as a member of the board of directors of Park School P-TA and has been active in Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and Camp Fire. At Alto School she founded the presently very popular potluck dinners. For five years she participated in the water safety program for the Red Cross. She is an active member of the Redwood Guild of Sunny Hills and the Lady Lions.

When asked what she will propose for the coming year, Lois enthusiastically replied, "to carry on the civics, conservation and community projects already under way.

"THE ULTIMATE purpose of our organization could not be stated in better words than those of the by-laws. The preservation of the natural beauty of Mill Valley and its environs and the promotion of cultural and community service are the objectives of our club. We could easily lose sight of these aims, but we didn't last year, and we won't next year.

"The past year the club originated and went on record to support many areas of civic beautification," the new president said, "and we are looking forward to adding our efforts to those of all civic organizations interested in the same purposes as our own."

Other officers elected were Mesdames Earle M. Marsh, first vice president; Adren Aitken, second vice president; Homer J. Hixon, recording secretary; Robert B. Earl, corresponding secretary; Walter L. Long, business secretary, and L. M. Wahlquist, treasurer.

New directors are Mesdames Willis C. Elliott, house; Gerhardt von Bonin, rentals; John A. Lennon, membership; Frank T. Hamilton, historian and publicity; John R. Pershing, grounds; Gerhard Becker, community service; A. Leonard Bjorklund, ways and means; Russell C. Mills, director-at-large; Earle F. Reinke, finance; Alan F. Kappelman, civics and conservation; Lawrence D. Pritchard, cultural arts, and James R. Betts, advisory committee.

Walter Taits To Give Dinner For UCLA Alumni Friends

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Tait of Loch Lomond are entertaining at their annual spring dinner for members of the Alumni Association of the University of California at Los Angeles tomorrow night. Guests will come early to swim. Cocktails will be served and the dinner will be followed by dancing. Honored will be Paul Jones, field director for the alumni association, and his wife, who are driving up from Los Angeles for the party. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will conduct the second UCLA alumni grand tour of Europe this summer. The Taits and several other Bay Area couples are going on the tour.

Mrs. Tait has been Marin County chairman for the successful fund raising for the UCLA Memorial Activities Center to be built on the athletic field of the campus. The center will accommodate 13,000 people. The alumni have contributed one million dollars to match the money given by one of the regents. Donors and campaign workers will be honored April 18 at the university.

MANY ARE attending the dinner at Deer Park Villa, Fairfax, Sunday, following the hootenanny in the gym of Sir Francis Drake High School to raise money for the school's exchange student program. Among those at the dinner will be Dr. and Mrs. John Cann, Dr. and Mrs. Brooks Pringle, Dr. and Mrs. William Upton, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Ker, Messrs. and Mesdames William Davis, Irwin Diamond, Michael Lopez, Richard De Lew, Frank Barley, Guy Manuel, Gerald Barron, S. P. Murman, J. F. Edelstein, H. C. Skellenger, Mrs. Morris Seastrom and Glenn Reznor.

MR. AND MRS. Kenneth S. Beebe, who lived in Mill Valley for eight years, have moved to the Valley of the Moon, Sonoma County. They bought several acres.

The Beebes (he has retired from the insurance business) have just returned from a month's tour of Mexico. They flew there and with a guide drove to many parts of the country. On the tour were Cuernavaca, Acapulco, Guanajuato, San Jose Purua, Taxco, Morelia, Mazatland and Puerto Vallarta. They were four or five days at each place.

JOYOUS WAS the reunion Tuesday when San Rafael Improvement Club feted past presidents, honorary presidents and honored members. Miss Georgia Wintringham, an honorary member, drove all the way from her home in Carmel Highlands to attend. I'm an honorary member of the club and I was seated at the tea table with Mesdames G. B. Waterman, Louis L. Walsh and Charles Howell, honorary presidents, and the past president, Mesdames Herbert K. Brainerd, Eldred Hillis, Lawrence Cowen, Carlos Freitas, Marie Robinson, Leiton Elder, Raymond Morrison, Earl Burns, Lewis A. Clapp and Richard Hardin.

The tea followed a beautiful piano program presented by Emilio Osta, who played Spanish and Latin American music. He told of the origin of each number and made many witty comments. During the tea hour, members and guests told of vacation plans and what they had been doing. Mrs. Homer (Hilda) Hood, tea chairman, said she and her husband had been to Arizona. Mrs. Herbert (Helen) Christ reported she and her husband had a wonderful three months of vacation. Most of the time they were in Scottsdale, Arizona, or Palm Springs.

Pauline Elder and I had lots of fun when we realized we were wearing identical hats. Of course, we had bought them at the same store.

The Story On Those Foaming Detergents

Much has been said recently about foaming water and possible detergent pollution.

Mrs. Virginia Porter, Marin County home adviser, has released the information complied by Constance Burgess, home management specialist at the University of California.

Making soap is a relatively simple process involving lye and fat. Detergents, on the other hand, are complex synthetic products.

IF BOTH SOAP AND detergents cause suds, why is so much blame for foaming put onto detergents? Breakdown of soaps and detergents is normally accomplished by biological processes during sewage treatment. Detergents break down much more slowly and less completely than do soaps, and so most of the foaming that occurs in faucets and on surface waters is due to undecomposed (or non-degraded) detergent residues.

What do we mean by a surfactant and what does it do? The word surfactant is compounded from the words "surface" and "active." A surfactant has the ability to reduce surface tension. For example, a surfactant permits bubbling or sudsing of wash water. Detergents contain one or more surfactants to lower surface tension and help loosen dirt particles.

Sewage treatment involves aeration (or oxidation) and biological action and decomposition caused by bacteria. If a surfactant can be destroyed by bacteria, it is said to be biodegradable.

WHAT IS MEANT by a "hard" or a "soft" detergent? These terms refer to the ease with which the surfactant can be degraded. Soap is "soft," because it breaks down faster and more completely than most detergents. Like soap, some household detergents are based on fats such as tallow and cocoanut oil and so are "soft." Examples are shampoos, some hand dishwashing detergents and most low-sudsing laundry detergents.

Most of the widely used all-purpose household detergents contain a surfactant called alkyl benzene sulfonate, known as ABS. Breakdown of ABS is relatively slow and less complete than is soap or a soft detergent.

IS ABS INJURIOUS to health? U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Anthony J. Celebrezze, says that "We do not as yet know the adverse effects, if any, of these (detergent) wastes on human health when ingested over a long period in the minute quantities in which they may be present in the public water supply."

The U.S. Public Health has set a recommended limit of 0.5 ppm of ABS for public water supplies. Actually ABS has to be present at a level of 1.0 ppm to cause foaming and at least 16.0 ppm to be detectable by taste.

WHY IS THERE so much concern about foaming? Foaming itself creates some problems. For example, West German waterways became so saturated with suds that navigation was impaired. During this past winter in Illinois a pile of suds 40 feet high accumulated in front of an ice jam below a dam. Some sewage treatment plants complain that foam covers machinery, makes catwalks slippery and cuts off the necessary light and oxygen for the water treatment process.

Is foaming the only real concern? No. A much greater concern is the knowledge that foam is likely to be an indicator of other troubles. Up to 50 or 60 per cent of the ABS in water can be degraded in an adequate sewage treatment plant, less in a properly working septic tank.

The ABS is further degraded as it travels through rivers and other surface waters and passes through the soil. When foaming comes from a faucet, it is usually where the water is from a well, rather than from a community water supply. This may mean that the well is too close to the septic tank or other sources of contamination. Detergent in water is an indication that there is some recently used water in the supply.

Presence of suds on surface waters is likely to indicate that there is protein material present, along with ABS. The presence of protein may mean that there is untreated sewage in the water or in the area. In a sense, then, the presence of suds should be a welcome warning to a community to investigate the possibility of a polluted water supply.

WHAT IS BEING done about ABS and foaming?

Legislation regarding detergents has been introduced in several countries. West Germany has passed a low banning sale of "hard" detergents after September of 1964.

National legislation is under consideration in the U.S. Likewise this past year five states considered legislation. California's bills, introduced last spring, failed to pass.

Meanwhile, member companies of the Soap and Detergent Assn. have set a target date of sometime in 1965 for a soft detergent that will be at least 80 per cent degradable. Several manufacturers of the basic surfactant chemical claim that they will be able to supply this to detergent companies by the fall of 1964.

The Soap and Detergent Assn. represents about 75 per cent of detergent manufacturers. Non-association manufacturers still may produce hard detergents unless forced to desist by legislation or competition.

WILL THE SOFT detergents perform any differently or cost more than the ones we use now? Probably not. Manufacturers will make every effort to duplicate current products, since they want to keep their trade. Although there have been rumors of slightly higher costs, there is likely to be little difference.

ADDING LUXURIOUS LOOK

The lack of interior architectural interest is common in many homes and apartments built within the past two decades, and families today are adding a warmer, richer look through furnishings. The void can be filled with folding screens or wallpaper with architectural detail and furniture such as these classic bookcases flanking a plush, tufted sofa. The use of rich amber, gold and beige tones, the velvet sofa fabric and classic design of furniture are evidence of a strong new interest in more formal and elegant rooms.

Novato Beautification Set For Garden Club Members

Novato Garden Club members have elected Mrs. William K. Rupert of Novato to serve as president for the year.

The new president, who had never gardened before coming to Novato four years ago, says, "I am overwhelmed with joy when seeds and plants grow for me—my thumb is really getting a little green."

Helen Rupert also enjoys hunting and fishing, reading, cooking, concerts and Marin Music Chest activities.

Mrs. Rupert and her husband, an engineer with the Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco, traveled extensively before settling in the Bay Area. They lived in England and Italy for three years, and during World War II Helen, who was a registered nurse, served in the Army Nurse Corps.

Club members hope to plant more trees, investigate underground utility wires in new areas and work for parks for the Novato area in the coming club year.

Liquid ambar trees have been planted along Grant Avenue in Novato as part of their city beautification program. They are also working to have every Novato home have a flowering plum in the yard.

Others to serve with Mrs. Rupert are Mesdames George Whitten, first vice president and program and publicity chairman; Mrs. Alice Sloat, second vice president, refreshment chairman and properties chairman; E. N. Kingsland, recording secretary; Chester Jurkus, corresponding secretary, and T. H. Cassidy, treasurer and horticulture and bazaar chairman. Other chairmen appointed by Mrs. Rupert include Mesdames Ivan Johnson, decorations; Charles Clarkson, flower thoughts; Walter Von Tagen, garden therapy; John Leaf, hospitality; Frank Scott, librarian; Walter Kuser, membership; Ralph Michener, sunshine; A. P. Garatti, bus tours.

Installation will be held at the Community House at noon Tuesday. Mrs. Lucile Cannon will be installing officer.

Marin MAGAZINE
Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

For more than 40 years, the Katharine Branson School of Ross has been preparing its girls for college and for positive roles in their communities. Tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine, in an article by Nadine Bergerot Van Orden, takes you to the KBS campus and tells you some of the things that have gained for this private school recognition throughout the country.

. Loi Wing's two prime interests were art and horses. And so she combined the two into a business enterprise that is unique and fast-growing. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown tells you about Pony Prints, the Fairfax concern which turns out "birth announcements" for horses among other things, in tomorrow's issue of the I-J weekend supplement.

Perhaps it is because he remembers his own youth so well — "I was a tough, reckless kid," he says — that Joe Gargiulo takes such a keen interest in Marin's young people. The story of this Novato school teacher and Counselor — College of Marin trustee — North Marin civic leader will be told in tomorrow's magazine. He's a man of great energy and interesting opinions.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

Today is Friday, April 10, the 101st day of 1964 with 265 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1841, Horace Greeley published the first issue of the New York Tribune.

In 1945, the infamous Nazi concentration camp at Buchenwald was liberated by the U.S. 80th Division.

In 1962, an increase in steel prices so angered President John F. Kennedy that he stepped in and forced the boost to be wiped out.

In 1963, the atomic submarine Thresher sank in the Atlantic with 129 men aboard, in the Navy's worst peacetime submarine disaster.

A thought for the day: English writer Samuel Butler once said: "A hen is only an egg's way of making another egg."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Man And Boy Bite Dog In National Tournament

In the 1960 census it was discovered that every bridge player in the United States at some time or other has said to an opponent: "Never send a boy to do a man's job."

The situation occurs when the opponent ruffs with a low trump and you over-ruff. I now present a man-bites-dog twist on this situation.

Opening lead — ◇ 9

I led the nine of diamonds from the West hand, and my partner, Ivan Erdos, won with the king. We don't claim any special prize for this first trick.

DUE MEDAL

Erdos should probably get a medal of some kind for returning the ace of diamonds. A low diamond return would allow South to make the contract by simply discarding a club.

When Erdos returned the ace of diamonds, South came to the right conclusion.

I he ruffed low, he would be over-ruffed, and then he would hear all about men and boys. So South ruffed with the jack of hearts, hoping to avoid an over-ruff.

GETS WISH

South got his wish, but it didn't seem to make him very happy in the end.

I discarded a spade from the West hand since my trump tricks would wait.

South cashed the ace and king of hearts, hoping to see the queen fall from the East hand, but he was doomed to disappointment. He had to give up three trump tricks, and there went his contract.

OVER-RUFF

Curiously enough, South must allow himself to be over-ruffed at the second trick. He must ruff with a low trump.

West can get only two trump tricks regardless of whether or not he over-ruffs at the second trick. Work it out for yourself and see.

I should be ashamed, I know, but I couldn't resist it. When the hand was over, I whispered to South: "Never send a man to do a boy's job."

QUESTION

♠ A 7
♥ A K J 9 7 4 2
♣ 10 3 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart.

An opening shutout bid of three or four hearts might easily do your side out of a lay-down slam.

QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

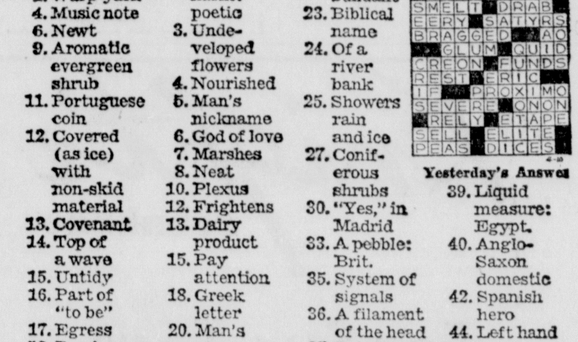

You hold:
♠ 8 6 2
♥ K 5 2
♦ K 4
♣ A 9 8 4 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid 3 NT.

With your 10 points, the combined count should be 26 to 28 points, enough for a game at notrump but a point or two light for a game at clubs.

Marin Motel Group President Is Elected

Members of a new organization, the Marin County Motel Assn., have elected Frank Mesta, manager of the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera, as president.

Mesta said 12 Marin motels are represented and others have expressed interest in joining the group. He said the organization's immediate purpose is to foster closer cooperation between motel owners for a mutual exchange of ideas and for the housing of large groups which has always been a problem in Marin.

Long range aims of the association include advertising and publicizing the county's visitor facilities, and setting standards whereby all motels may be suitably listed.

Paul Thompson, owner of the Villa Rafael Motel, will be chairman of accommodations and conventions. He will work closely with the Marin Visitors Bureau, Mesta said.

A hearing on the case of Brice Brothers Town and Country Inc. of Tiburon, charged with violations of state liquor laws involving minors, has been continued indefinitely, according to Richard H. Burke, district administrator of the department of alcoholic beverage control.

The first hearing on the charge was held yesterday afternoon in the Labor Temple in San Rafael witht Ivores Dains as hearing officer.

A hearing also was held on similar violations charged against Roma F. Weaver of Forest Knolls and evidence presented by officers of the department.

Proposed decision on the matter will be submitted to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board by Dains.

Redwood High Senior Newsman Due Honors

Redwood High School senior Gary Artoux, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Artoux of 2 Via Navarro, Greenbrae, has been voted the most valuable staff member on the Bark, the high school's student newspaper.

Artoux, who has also won the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. award for the best news story, will be honored at a dinner at the high school on April 15 at 6:30 p.m.

'Graduation Ball' Tonight At Dominican

Students of the Dominican Convent Upper School in San Rafael will present "Graduation Ball" choreographed and directed by Greta Tozier at 8 p.m. today in Angelico Hall on the campus.

Dancers in the ballet to music written by Johann Strauss include Roberta Burch, Susan Halley, Ilona Marshall, Marsha Helgren, Nancy Donnell, Margaret Daly, Jean Mirata and Jennifer Hatch.

Tonight's performance will be the first in the school's spring series of programs which will include a vocal and instrumental program presented by members of the upper school's music faculty April 26; the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra with an all-Beethoven program conducted by Maestro Josef Krips May 2; two evenings of student drama with three contemporary plays directed by Paula White on May 8 and May 10, and "The Splendor of Classic Vienna," a program of music, story, art and dance of 18th Century Vienna to be presented May 15.

'Face To Face With Mr. K.' To Be Topic

"Face to Face With Mr. K." is the title of a talk to be given Thursday by Joseph J. Allen to the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Jaycee's fifth annual distinguished service award dinner and bosses night.

Allen, once press secretary to former Mayor George Christopher, is deputy director of the San Francisco Housing Authority. He will tell of his meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev while accompanying Christopher to Russia.

One man from Southern Marin will be given the service award at the event to be held at 7 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Club. It is based on contributions to general community welfare through the year, evidence of leadership ability and evidence of personal or business progress.

Judges choose a young man 21 through 35 years of age, the name of the person to be revealed at the banquet.

First four winners of the award were Normand Black, 1959, Jack Lentz, 1960, Belman Maddock, 1961 and Charles Crawford, 1963, according to Jerome C. Hauke, awards chairman.

Planners Due Map Of Tract In San Rafael

The San Rafael Planning Commission Tuesday will consider the application of Alan Kay for a 45-lot subdivision west of the extension of Ridgewood Drive.

Tentative map of the tract will be one of several items to be considered at the meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

The tract, to be known as Highland Vista No. 2, has been designed by engineers Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton.

Other matters on the agenda include consideration of a use permit requested by Joseph Pell for 120 apartment units on Orchid Drive northeast of Oleander Drive. This is a revision of plans rejected by the city council as calling for too high density for the area, which is unzoned but shown for single-family dwelling on the county master plan.

Most car license plates are made of steel, which is tough, long-lasting and inexpensive.

Is It Difficult To Make Choice of Mill Valley Council Candidates

By George E. Wickham

With the flood of signs, stickers and brochures in Mill Valley, it probably will be difficult to choose among the eight candidates.

Generally speaking all brochures indicate to the public that a particular individual is a "good guy" and deserving of being elected to the city council.

Future decisions to be made in Mill Valley are going to require more than just being a "good guy." They will involve not only engineering and planning, but will include issues which will affect our every day living. They will affect our teenage activities and conduct, our tax structure and the overall evaluation of Mill Valley as a community.

Such decisions will require not only a thorough knowledge and understanding of problems involved, but will also require the ability of being able to work with all factors of Mill Valley. And this must be on a level of respect and consideration that comes from a long time exposure and familiarity with the community.

It is impossible to expect that all matters will be resolved in a manner that will please everyone. But if this is done on the basis of sound judgement and in the best interest of the city as a whole, I am convinced that not only our perennial problems of the past but those of the future will show improvement. This can be formulated into progressive positive action which will see Mill Valley continue to improve and forge ahead in the future.

I have stated before, and I wish to emphasize it again, that my decision to run for the city council was my own and I can say that it still is. Opinions which I express or write are based upon my own feelings and thinking on a particular subject.

I am seeking the support of all the residents of Mill Valley on this basis.

In choosing your candidate for Tuesday's election, go beyond the brochures and statements of today and look for qualifications and personal backgrounds of the individuals whom you feel can properly and fairly represent your for the next four years. They will be important ones.

Vol. II.] SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1776. [Num. 228.

In CONGRESS, July 4, 1776.
A Declaration by the Repreſentatives of the United States of America, in General Congreſs aſſembled.

WHEN, in the courſe of human events, it becomes neceſſary for one people to diſſolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to aſſume, among the powers of the earth, the ſeparate and equal ſtation to which the laws of nature and of nature's God intitle them, a decent reſpect to the opinions of mankind requires that they ſhould declare the cauſes which impel them to the ſeparation.

We hold theſe truths to be ſelf-evident, That all men are created equal; that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights; that among theſe are life, liberty, and the purſuit of happineſs. That to ſecure theſe rights, governments are inſtituted among men, deriving their juſt powers from the conſent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes deſtructive of theſe ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to aboliſh it, and to inſtitute new government, laying its foundation on ſuch prineiples, and organizing its powers in ſuch form, as to them ſhall ſeem moſt likely to effect their ſafety and happineſs. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long eſtabliſhed ſhould not be changed for light and tranſient cauſes; and accordingly all experience hath ſhewn, that mankind are more diſpoſed to ſuffer, while evils are ſufferable, than to right themſelves by aboliſhing the forms to which they are accuſtomed. But when a long train of abuſes and uſurpations, purſuing invariably the ſame object, evinces a deſign to reduce them under abſolute deſpotiſm, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off ſuch government, and to provide new guards for their future ſecurity. Such has been the patient ſufferance of theſe colonies, and ſuch is now the neceſſity which conſtrains them to alter their former ſyſtems of government. The hiſtory of the preſent King of Great-Britain is a hiſtory of repeated injuries and uſurpations, all having in direct object the eſtabliſhment of an abſolute tyranny over theſe ſtates. To prove this, let facts be ſubmitted to a candid world.

He has refuſed his aſſent to laws, the moſt wholeſome and neceſſary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to paſs laws of immediate and preſſing importance, unleſs ſuſpended in their operation till his aſſent ſhould be obtained; and, when ſo ſuſpended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refuſed to paſs other laws for the accommodation of large diſtricts of people, unleſs thoſe people would relinquiſh the right of repreſentation in the legiſlature, a right ineſtimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legiſlative bodies at places unuſual, uncomfortable, and diſtant from the depoſitory of their public records, for the ſole purpoſe of fatiguing them into compliance with his meaſures.

He has diſſolved Repreſentative Houſes repeatedly, for oppoſing with manly firmneſs his invaſions on the rights of the people.

He has refuſed for a long time, after ſuch diſſolutions, to cauſe others to be elected; whereby the legiſlative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exerciſe; the ſtate remaining in the mean time expoſed to all the dangers of invaſion from without, and convulſions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of theſe ſtates; for that purpoſe obſtructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refuſing to paſs others to encourage their migrations hither, and raiſing the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obſtructed the adminiſtration of juſtice, by refuſing his aſſent to laws for eſtabliſhing judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependant on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their ſalaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and ſent hither ſwarms of officers to harraſs our people, and eat out their ſubſtance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, ſtanding armies, without the conſent of our legiſlatures.

He has affected to render the military independant of and ſuperior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to ſubject us to a juriſdiction foreign to our conſtitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his aſſent to their acts of pretended legiſlation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from puniſhment for any murders which they ſhould commit on the inhabitants of theſe ſtates:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For impoſing taxes on us without our conſent:

For depriving us, in many caſes, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For tranſporting us beyond ſeas to be tried for pretended offences:

For aboliſhing the free ſyſtem of Engliſh laws in a neighbouring province, eſtabliſhing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, ſo as to render it at once an example and fit inſtrument for introducing the ſame abſolute rule into theſe colonies:

For taking away our charters, aboliſhing our moſt valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For ſuſpending our own legiſlatures, and declaring themſelves inveſted with power to legiſlate for us in all caſes whatſoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection and waging war againſt us.

He has plundered our ſeas, ravaged our coaſts, burnt our towns, and deſtroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, tranſporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, deſolation, and tyranny, already begun with circumſtances of cruelty and perfidy ſcarcely paralleled in the moſt barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has conſtrained our fellow citizens taken captive on the high ſeas to bear arms againſt their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themſelves by their hands.

He has excited domeſtic inſurrections amongſt us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the mercileſs Indian Savages, whoſe known rule of warfare is an undiſtinguiſhed deſtruction of all ages, ſexes and conditions.

In every ſtage of theſe oppreſſions we have petitioned for redreſs in the moſt humble terms: Our repeated petitions have been anſwered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whoſe character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our Britiſh breſhren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legiſlature to extend an unwarrantable juriſdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumſtances of our emigration and ſettlement here. We have appealed to their native juſtice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to diſavow theſe uſurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connexions and correſpondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of juſtice and of conſanguinity. We muſt, therefore, acquieſce in the neceſſity, which denounces our ſeparation, and hold them, as we hold the reſt of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the Repreſentatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in GENERAL CONGRESS aſſembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name, and by authority of the good people of theſe colonies, ſolemnly publiſh and declare, that theſe United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, FREE AND INDEPENDANT STATES; that they are abſolved from all allegiance to the Britiſh Crown, and that all political connexion between them and the ſtate of Great-Britain is and ought to be totally diſſolved; and that, as FREE AND INDEPENDANT STATES, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, eſtabliſh commerce, and to do all other acts and things which INDEPENDANT STATES may of right do. And for the ſupport of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our ſacred honor.

Signed by ORDER and in BEHALF of CONGRESS,

JOHN HANCOCK, Preſident.

Answer: 10 advertisers

Did you think the Declaration of Independence was carried around on parchment scrolls and read in town squares by little old men wearing funny hats, white pony tails and ringing little bells?

Not so. The historic news was spread by papers like The Pennsylvania Evening Post (above). And these papers were supported by advertisers like Hyns Taylor, upholsterer, and David Pancoast, realtor (also above).

The same holds true today.

Without advertisers, the paper you're reading right now might cost one dollar or more.

(At those prices some people would much rather wait for the little old man ringing the little bell.)

What you paid for this newspaper today just about covers the cost of the paper it's printed on.

Everything else—the entire cost of world-wide and local news gathering, pictures, features, the actual engravings, typesetting and printing—has to be borne by local and national advertising.

It's the same with magazines, radio and television.

Perhaps we wouldn't be in the dark ages without advertising, but we'd certainly be in the dark.

Of course there's always the possibility that the government would subsidize newspapers, magazines, radio and television.

But in that case, we could hardly expect members of the government to use these media to publicize their own shortcomings or mistakes.

It is apparent, then, that advertising is intimately connected with freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

Because there are advertisers who want to tell you the difference between products, there are newspapers (and radio and television) to tell you the difference between political candidates.

There are some countries, you know, where they don't have a choice between political candidates.

Or products.

Can you tell which year VW is which? Bet your neighbors can't either.

It's pretty hard to tell a used VW from a new one. Particularly when it's been reconditioned, washed, polished and put in first-class running order, as we do.

Come in and pick out the one you want. We'll tell you its age. But you don't have to tell a soul. It'll be our secret.

New Citizen Asks More Ceremony

A Larkspur housewife, who has just become a new citizen, feels that the ceremony in the San Francisco courtroom is not impressive enough to make one feel proud of acquiring his citizenship.

Mrs. Imgerd V. Kesner of 113 Sycamore Avenue became a new citizen on March 24.

"It was quite an exciting day," she said. "But they could do something more to make people feel proud of becoming citizens."

Mrs. Kesner said that the ceremonies "were on a mass production basis." Crowded into the courtroom were 125 new citizens. There was room only for a few spectators, she said.

A friend of Mrs. Kesner's took her two children to the ceremonies. The children were dismissed from school for the day to gather information for a paper on how to become a citizen.

Officials would not let the children into the crowded room at first, but after Mrs. Kesner and the mother pleaded, the children were allowed into the courtroom.

Mrs. Kesner said, "I guess the impressiveness of the ceremonies depends on the individual judges."

Becoming a new citizen along with Mrs. Kesner was Miss Elizabeth M. Bugger, a nurse for a San Francisco doctor who lives with the Kesners.

Mrs. Kesner's husband, Raymond, a sergeant stationed at Fort Baker, prepared the two women for their citizenship test. "He was a fantastic teacher. We worked late into the nights," Mrs. Kesner said.

The Kesners met in Berlin, her original home, in 1954. Kesner has been reassigned to Germany and the family, including their son, Mark, 3, will return to Germany in July.

Miss Bugger's trip to the United States from her native Bremen was sponsored by the Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley.

Larkspur Unit Goes Over Tree Ordinance

Larkspur recreation commissioners reviewed the proposed city tree ordinance with Mayor Lesly A. Daveler Wednesday night in preparation for its presentation to the city council next Wednesday.

The ordinance, according to commission chairman Robert V. Golden, sets standards for planting and maintenance of trees. Its most controversial part is a section giving City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper the power to decide which trees are a nuisance and must be removed. This section of the ordinance would pertain to redwood trees in Madrone Canyon and on Magnolia Avenue, Golden said.

Redwood State Park Freeway Is Protested

EUREKA (AP) — Plans for a four-lane freeway through a redwood state park has touched off a nationwide protest, a State Division of Highway official said yesterday.

"There's no doubt this is a nationwide issue. We're being deluged with letters and newspaper editorials to 'save our redwoods.' And they're coming from all over the country," Division I Engineer Sam Helwer told the Humboldt County Board of Supervisors.

The division will hold a public hearing in Eureka later this month on its plans for a freeway through Prairie Creek Redwood State Park, about 20 miles north of Eureka.

Wife Is Facing Assault Trial

Mrs. Madoline Ann Mason, 24, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday for trial on a charge of assaulting her husband with a knife March 14 in an altercation at their home, located behind the Forest Knolls Post Office.

Hearing was set for 9:30 a.m. April 20.

The victim, William Roger Mason, 40, was knifed in the chest with a 12-inch serrated bread knife.

The thrust penetrated his heart, but a team of doctors saved his life with emergency surgery. Mason recovered and went home from the hospital last week.

Kentfield Girl, 7, Is Struck By Auto

Sharon Jean O'Reilly, 7, of 15 Broadway, Kentfield, was treated for a bruised scalp yesterday at Marin General Hospital after she was hit by a car while crossing Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Sharon, a student at Wolfe Grade School, stepped out from behind a parked car near the school and was hit by an auto driven west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by Alice Irene Francis, 29, of 132 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, at 2.50 p.m., acording to the California Highway Patrol.

Goodwill Is Seeking Unneeded Furniture

Unneeded furniture and appliances, especially chests, bookcases, desks, lamps, percolators and toasters, are needed by Goodwill Industries to expand a training program for emotionally disturbed teenagers from Marin and San Francisco counties.

Last year, Goodwill Industries trained 40 youngsters on furniture and appliance repair. If enough donations are received, the program can be substantially expanded. Workers will pick up donations.

Sanitation District Annexes Approved

Annexations of Terra Linda unit 22, Marinwood Oaks and Marinwood Country Estates subdivisions to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District were approved by the district board last night.

The board also ruled that assessments still unpaid for San Rafael Meadows sewer installation would go on the tax bills this year.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Stroke Figures Misleading—Many Victims Also Suffer Other Ills

VAN DELLEN

Approximately 175,000 individuals in the United States die annually of stroke. The disorder is the third most common cause of death. But these figures may be misleading because sudden deaths often are blamed on heart attacks. Unless an autopsy is done, the real cause is not known. It could have been stroke.

This mistake is understandable because many of the men and women who succumb to stroke also have hardening of the coronary arteries. Arteriosclerosis is the common denominator. In some stroke victims who suffer from angina pectoris, the old ticker is unable to deliver its quota of blood to the arteries of the brain.

INFORMATION also is lacking on the number of persons who have had a stroke. If symptoms clear up in a few days, the true condition may escape detection. It has been estimated that 2 million living Americans have had one or more strokes, either major or minor.

A household study disclosed 200,000 cases of complete paralysis and 100,000 with partial involvement. Approximately 400,0000 strokes occur annually. Of these, 85 per cent are disabling to some extent.

STATISTICS ON apoplexy are bound to improve because more physicians are on the lookout for the warning signals of an impending brain hemorrhage or obstruction. These precursors include transient attacks of headache, dizziness, weakness and numbness of an extremity, visual disturbances, and changes in personality. Special X-rays and other tests can now be done to determine the cause. If it can be pin-pointed, proper treatment may guard against future and more serious strokes.

Recent studies have shown, for example, that diseased neck arteries often are responsible for strokes in men. Many of these abnormalities can be corrected by surgery. In others, high blood pressure can be decreased, circulation to the brain improved, or the blood clotting time lowered. But other types of stroke continue to stump the medical profession.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

28 PANGS WEEKLY

Mrs. H. E. writes: I have angina pectoris and get 28 constrictions a week. Is this too many?

REPLY

Yes, in that angina pectoris means heart disease and, in this respect, one attack of pain is too much. But don't be discouraged. Stop walking before the pain develops or take a nitroglycerine before leaving home if anginal pain occurs on the way to work.

DISTENTION AFTER EATING

R. R. writes. Could much discomfort and distention after eating be on a psychosomatic basis?

REPLY

Yes, but we hesitate to make a diagnosis of nervous stomach unless the gastrointestinal tract, including the gall bladder, is studied thoroughly.

EFFECTS OF CHILL

R. R. writes: Could a chill cause stoppage of urine?

REPLY

Yes, particularly if a urinary tract infection is responsible for the chill.

STAPHYLOCOCCAL INFECTION

P. S. writes: Are all boils considered staph infections?

REPLY

Yes, as staphylococci are the commonest causative agents.

NO IMMUNITY

D. A. writes: Does one attack of gonorrhea make a person immune to this disease?

REPLY

No.

Lucas Valley Group May Form CSD

Directors of the Lucas Valley Homeowners' Assn. which recently took ownership of the community center and pool in the Lucas Valley subdivision, last night discussed formation of a community services district or recreation and parks district to operate the facilities.

Directors decided to name a committee for further study.

The board approved plans for the pool to open May 2, and gave the pool committee authority to hire lifeguards. Hours for the pool were tentatively set for 1 to 7:30 p.m. on weekdays and 10 a.m. to 8:30 on weekends until the end of the school year.

An $18,000 budget was presented to the board, including funds to operate the pool, and proposed rates and hours for use of the community center were approved. The budget is expected to be considered at the membership meeting May 7.

Quake Study For California Urged

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The State Mining Board today was behind a recommendation to survey the Alaska quake area to help prepare California for future temblors.

The board voted to urge the Division of Mines and Geology to send an expert to Anchorage to conduct an on-the-spot assessment of the March 27 quake.

"We may never get another such chance to study and survey the effects of an 8.6 magnitude quake in time to apply the results of California," said Philip R. Bradley, board chairman.

Film Comedian El Brendel Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian El Brendel, whose mastery of the Swedish accent led to success in vaudeville, Broadway musicals and motion pictures, is dead of a heart attack at 73.

Movie fans of the 1930s were amounsed by Brendel's frequent use of the exclamation "Yump—in' Yiminy," which became a sort of trademark.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Global Affair' Opening In San Rafael

By LES DARD

Here we are, movie fans; another weekend look at Marin County's silver screens:

RAFAEL THEATER

Bob Hope brings another collection of laughs to town Sunday in "A Global Affair." And even Adlai Stevenson gets into the act.

Bob plays a bachelor who heads the fictional United Nations Women of the World Department. He is made custodian of a 15-month-old baby abandoned in the U. N. building.

Each of the 111 member nations wants the honor of adopting the baby, the theory being that the child will go to the most deserving nation. To pursue their claims, they all start wooing Hope.

A bevy of not-so-motherly would-be mothers descends on him, each doing her best for sheer patriotism. The final decision becomes Bob's to make, and it's interesting to see how he whips the delicate problem.

Sharing the spotlight are beauties like Lilo Pulver, Yvonne DeCarlo and Michele Mercier.

Co-featured is the refreshing "Wheeler Dealers," in which James Garner tackles the world of high finance—Texas style. And between deals, he's giving particular attention to Lee Remick.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

While designed for the young, "The Incredible Mr. Limpet!" is a buoyant fantasy that will delight most audiences. It has delicious satire, a pleasing personality on all counts and even some first-class new songs.

Don Knotts — he of the incredible Adam's apple — plays a timid Brooklyn bookkeeper, Henry Limpet, whose one consuming passion is to become a fish.

One suspects he wants to do this to swim freely away from his domineering wife, played by blonde and buxom Carole Cook, of New York musical comedy fame.

Limpet realizes his wish on an outing to Coney Island, when he is suddenly transformed into a near-sighted dolphin. The incredible Henry also discovers he has marvelous sonic tone with which he detects other underwater objects.

Before he knows it Henry becomes a secret weapon of the Navy, tracking down and destroying Nazi submarines.

Henry's piscatorial adventures cleverly combine live action with animated-cartoon, and his Technicolor tete-a-tetes with a grouchy old crab and a lovely lady fish are real fun watching.

Fine family fare.

101 DRIVE-IN

The gripping story, set in 1974, of an attempted takeover of the U.S. government by the military is told in "Seven Days in May," now showing.

Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster and Frederic March star.

March plays a peace-loving president who signs an agreement with Russia for nuclear disarmament. Burt Lancaster plays the chairman of the joint chiefs, who considers the president a weakling.

Douglas, as Lancaster's aide, detects the Pentagon plot. When he is sure there is a threat to the president, he warns him.

An excellent story, told with precision and suspense.

A bedtime story for adults is told in "Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed," the co-feature starring Dean Martin.

NOVATO THEATER

Back with us is "Charade," which has Audrey Hepburn teamed with Cary Grant in a story that combines comedy, romance and suspense.

Audrey's husband is murdered. Always mysterious, he had sold off all the family assets and left her with nothing. Nobody knows what he did with the money, including Audrey.

But three nasty criminal types think otherwise. They terrify her.

Bodies pile up profusely, with Grant protecting Audrey all the while.

Doris Day stars along with James Garner in the co-feature, "Thrill of It All," an airily delightful laugh-fest in which Doris is suburban wife, mother, glamor girl and comedienne all in one pert package.

SEQUOIA THEATER

The screen version of Leo Rosten's novel, "Captain Newman, M.D.," interweaves both humor and pathos. It opens in Mill Valley Sunday.

Gregory Peck plays the title role of an Army psychiatrist in World War II. His job is to heal the minds and personalities of men battered and sometimes almost destroyed by battle.

The film dramatizes three case histories: A colonel wracked by guilt for the deaths of his men; a young corporal who left his buddy to die, and an officer silenced by his cowardice.

Angie Dickinson, Tony Curtis, Bobby Darin, and Eddie Albert are some big names surrounding Peck.

LARK THEATER

Now showing is "Knife in the Water," a penetrating Polish film that represents a tug-of-war between a middle aged man and a young one.

A well-to-do couple take a surly young hitchhiker with them sailing. The husband seems determined to prove his virility to his beautiful, bikini-clad wife at the younger man's expense.

When the blow-up comes, the young man is believed drowned. But while the husband is out reporting it, the hitchhiker is back at the boat seducing the wife.

Acting is tops, black and white photography superlative.

MOTOR MOVIES

The 23-year-old son of Errol Flynn, Sean Flynn, stars in "Son of Captain Blood," showing tonight and tomorrow. Those who thrilled to the genteel gymnastics and flashing smile of the elder a generation ago are likely to find similar pleasure in his offspring.

At least that's the way Hollywood figures it.

As the navigator on a sailing ship captured by pirates, young Flynn becomes the target of the bloodthirsty old buccaneer who once tangled with his father.

Co-featured is a pretty fair Western, "Law of the Lawless," starring Dale Robertson, William Bendix and Yvonne de Carlo.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Here's a quality double bill: "The Caretakers," depicts a conflict over new methods versus old in treatment of mental patients. It's more melodrama than medicine, but has some good moments of both.

Robert Stack stars as a staff psychiatrist at a state mental hospital. Joan Crawford plays head nurse and his leading opposition, Polly Bergen a housewife suffering a breakdown. Also seen are Herbert Marshall, Janis Page and Sharon Hugueny.

"Toys in the Attic" is Lillian Hellman's play about the strange attachment between a man and his two spinster sisters.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Dr. Strangelove," the satisflying satire about the end of our world, nuclear-bomb style, is held over. And this should be no surprise.

It's mad, mad, mad. But fun, fun, fun.

The brilliantly executed story concerns a demented SAC general who—all on his own—sends a fleet of bombers to destroy Russia.

Peter Sellers stars in three roles, George C. Scott is exceptional as chairman of the joint chiefs, and Sterling Hayden, Belvedere actor-author, does well as the crazy general.

HOPE IN MESS—Bob Hope finds himself in some amazing and hilarious predicaments with Lilo Pulver and Yvonne de Carlo in "A Global Affair." The film opens Sunday at the Rafael Theater.

Redwood Senior Is Outstanding

Joel Tobiason, Redwood High School senior, has been named the outstanding student at the school.

He will be given the annual $100 award sponsored by the California Savings and Loan League at a luncheon early in May.

Members of the Redwood administration and faculty nominated Tobiason on the basis of his scholastic achievement, civic responsibility and school leadership.

Tobiason is the son of Col. and Mrs. Stanley W. Tobiason of 39 Corte Fedora, Greenbrae.

Vet Jobless Benefits Warning Is Issued

Additional unemployment payments from the State Department of Employment might affect adjudicated claims before the Veterans Administration, Marin Veterans Service Officer James V. Burdick warned today.

He suggested that veterans or widows receiving additional state aid and have claims for pensions that are either pending or recently adjudicated, report the information to his office at the Civic Center.
